Two Teen-Agers Jailed For Beating Of Deputy

Marin Citians Chant Of Police Brutality

By JOHN KEARNEY

Sheriff's deputy Richard Keaton was severely beaten in Marin City early today as he and other officers attempted to make a traffic violation arrest.

He was knocked to the ground and kicked about the face and neck as a seething mob of about 20 teen-agers crowded around yelling and chanting "police brutality."

Two teen-agers were arrested and booked on charges of battery on a peace officer, resisting arrest and disturbing the peace.

One of them, Philip Craig Scott, 19, of 50 Cole Drive, Marin City is already out on bail for his part in the April 4 riot in which two other officers were attacked. That case is pending at Marin Superior Court.

The other Marin City teenager arrested was Daniel J. Hayden, 18, of 77 Buckelew Street.

Shortly after midnight today, what began as a routine stop on a car with faulty headlights exploded into a race-hate riot of punching, kicking and obscene screaming.

Keaton said he stopped the car on the 100 block of Drake Avenue. At the wheel was Hayden who said he had lost his license. Keaton wrote out a citation and asked the driver to sign. Hayden refused.

According to Keaton, Hayden declared: "You are not going to give me a citation. I am going to get the ---- out of here and you are not going to stop me."

Sensing there might be trouble, Keaton and colleague Deputy Billy Wallace asked for reinforcements while Hayden got back in his car.

Almost immediately, Scott drove up and asked Hayden what was wrong. Officers said Scott told Hayden to join him and leave.

Keaton said he again went to Hayden and asked him six times to sign the citation. Hayden said: "I sign nothing and if you want me you can come and get me."

Hayden was told he was under arrest whereupon he began to kick Keaton, said officers. Hayden was grabbed, broke free and punched the deputy three times in the face. The officer

Free-Ride Fire Tax Balked

Marin County supervisors balked this morning at giving taxpayers in cities and fire districts a full free ride on the county's structural fire tax.

Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom requetsed $99,134 in a structural fire fund to be paid by residents in unincorporated areas with a special tax of about 18 cents. Last year the fund was at $39,000 with an eight-cent tax for county residents.

Before recessing for coffee, the four supervisors present indicated an inclination to leave the fund at last year's level, raising the remaining $60,000 through the overall county tax rate.

The effect would be to raise the county tax rate 1.4 cents from the now projected $2.432, said county Auditor-controllbn Michael Mitchell.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, at one time this morning, moved that the county drop the structural fire tax altogether and Thomas T. Storer seconded, but later withdrew his second.

"If it is inequitable to tax city and fire district residents for structural fire protection in county areas," Kettenhofen said, "it is just as inequitable to tax unimproved county lands for the same thing.

"Actually, the county fire department is providing common protection throughout the county with common borders. The responsibility should be shared equally by all."

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said: "We put $39,000 in the fund last year at the request of the cities. If we wipe it out today, there will be a great cry from the cities."

Byron W. Leydecker suggested that the fund be left at last year's level with the county tax rate picking up the rest.

Earlier, Leydecker complained that the structural fire tax is inequitable for residents in unincorporated areas.

Storer also objected to chief Bloom's recommendation that the one man stations at Inverness and Bolinas be closed down, a move Bloom has suggested before.

"We went through this last year," Storer said. "I'm very reluctant on this. There is a strong feeling in the area about it."

Earlier, the board approved a budget for the corner—public guardian public administrator office, denying Coroner Frank Keaton's request for a deputy coroner at a saving of $10,020.

They also cut Keaton's $12,500 appropriation for autopsies to $11,500 and instructed the county administrator's office to see about hiring a part time pathologist.

The cuts brought the coroner's budegt to $39,886. Budget for public administrator is $12,672 and budget for public guardian is $100.

They also approved without cuts the $120,574 budget for the recorder's office.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss was absent.

Errant Truck Knocks Out Power, Shuts Off Supply Of Water, Gas

A Tiburon mother and her son escaped from their home uninjured this morning after one corner of the building was demolished by a runaway garbage truck.

The truck knocked out power for 1,200 customers, sheered water lines and gas lines serving the home and di irreparable damage to the building.

It also woke up Mrs. Bette Ponti, 43, and her son, Jonathan, 6. Mrs. Ponti was sleeping in the front bedroom of the home at 4979 Paradise Drive. Jonathan was in the back bedroom.

The eight-ton truck smashed into the corner of the house, just under the front bedroom.

The driver of the Mill Valley Refuse Service Inc. truck, Sexton H. Davis, 29, of San Francisco, was in good condition today with a broken right ankle in Marin General Hospital. He jumped out before the truck rammed through the Ponti home.

The truck left Taylor Road, knocked down a power pole, plowed through 100 feet of a vacant lot behind the Ponti home before crashing into it. It had not gone on to hit other homes below on Paradise Drive because the front tires had splayed out, acting as a brake.

Electric power to most of Corte Madera and the Paradise Drive area was cut off at 7:25 a.m. when the truck sheered off a power pole in its errant path down Taylor Road. Power to most of the 1,200 customers was restored by 7:55 a.m., with the rest later, according to Leonard O. Robertson, electric superintendent of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's San Rafael office.

Mrs. Ponti was able to grab Jonathan and walk out through the rubble to a neighbor's house. She was given oxygen at the scene by Tiburon Firemen to clear her lungs of gas fumes.

One half of the $30,000 single story wood frame house was loosened from its foundations leaving gaping holes in the side. Splintered wood, chunks of concrete foundation and bits of shrubbery were strewn in all directions around where the battered truck rested against the house.

"It felt like a great big thunder bolt," Mrs. Ponti said. "I thought it was an earthquake."

Her husband, Charles Ponti, 47, an equipment operator with PG&E had left for work at 7 a.m. He returned to help company crews shut off gas and restore lines.

"Can't repair the house," he said, "We'll have to tear the whole thing down."

Investigating sheriff deputies were still trying to determine today why the big truck got out of Sexton's control.

Union Aides Discuss Issue

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Transit union officials today continued their discussion of whether to recommend rejection or acceptance of a federal proposal that would end the five-week strike against Western Greyhound Lines.

The terms of the proposed pact have not been made public Both the Amalgamated Transit Union negotiators and and Greyhound management accepted the proposal yesterday, subject to approval by union membership.

Union officials from the seven western division idled by the strike have been meeting here to discuss the terms of the federal proposal, which union negotiators agreed to present to the membership.

Al Davis, business manager of the union's Division 1225, said Wednesday that it would be difficult to conduct a rank-and-file vote in less than a week.

U.S. Planes Pour Bombs Into North

SAIGON (UPI) —U.S. planes dodging Russian-made SAM missiles heavily bombed Communist North Viet Nam Thursday, a U.S. military spokesman reported today.

In the South B52 strategic bombers struck near the Cambodia border to blunt another threatened Communist offensive.

The 90 missions flown against the North—flights of two or more aircraft—cost at least one U.S. Navy jet fighter. The pilot radioed that Communist troops were closing in on him, bade his fellow pilots farewell and said he was destroying his radio so it could not be used to lure other pilots into anti-aircraft range.

The B-52 jets struck in Tay Ninh province 60 miles northwest of Saigon where ground troops have been moving in on several Communist battalions—up to 1,500 men—operating in the area.

Added Forces Fight Sequoia Brush Fires

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — Forestry officials boosted their forces to 1,100 men today to battle two major grass and brush fires raging out of control on the slopes of Breckenridge Mountain in Sequoia National Forest.

Forest Supervisor Lawrence Whitfield said the fires have consumed 5,900 acres and continue to threaten facilities on the mountain top.

Viet Girl, 19, Attempts Fire Death In Pagoda

SAIGON (UPI) —A 19-year-old girl tried to burn herself to death in the Buddhists' Vien Hoa Dao pagoda today in protest against the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. She failed but the attempt set off another wave of government unrest.

Buddhists youths had rioted throughout the day in the streets of Saigon until police broke up the demonstrations by firing pistols into the air and drenching the crowds with tear gas.

The girl then poured gasoline over her clothes at the pagoda and set herself afire. She was badly burned but the flames were exintquished before she could die.

Thich Tam Chau, the moderate Buddhist leader and rector of the Buddhist Institute at the pagoda, meanwhile condemned rioting and other violent tactics of Hue's militant Buddhist leader Thich Tri Quang who is in the eighth day of a hunger strike to protest American support of Ky.

Chau's blistering public denunciation split the Buddhist church right up the middle.

Two senior monks, Thich Tink Khiet and Thich Don Hau, sent a message to Tam Chau requesting he go to Hue to try to end the Buddhist "problem" there. Other more militant Buddhists called a three-day general strike in Saigon effective Saturday.

Ky sent 1,000 more troops into Hue today to try to end the antigovernment demonstrations and an open rebellion by 500 troops of the 1st Vietnamese Division, holed up in the moated fortress that was the home of Viet Nam's ancient emperors.

Troops in Hue cleared the streets with tear gas barrages and put a ring of tanks around the ancient fortress.

A 13-year-old boy was shot in the back of the leg and wounded as he ran toward the sanctuary of Saigon's main pagoda and monks claimed another youngster was injured by police bullets.

Marauding bands directed by gray-robed monks burned two military jeeps and two automobiles on their rampage. They set fire to stinking piles of rubbish and tires and hurled rocks at combat police who retaliated with tear gas attacks.

Barricades sprouted in the streets in the riot area around the Vien Hoa Dao Pagoda and traffic ground to a halt.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Castro In The Background

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If looks—or words—could kill, the State Department would be well on its way toward getting rid of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Castro

In a taunting statement, yesterday, the department said the bearded Cuban leader "has not been in the foreground of events" in his country since May 1.

It added that there is "growing popular dissatisfaction" in Cuba and that living conditions are unlikely to improve under Castro.

"The tragedy is," the department said, "that were it not for Castro and those closest to him Cuba's problems would by no means insoluble."

By suggesting that Castro was losing political control and also saying the United States from the beginning had backed the ideal of "democratic revolution" in the spirit of the Alliance for Progress.

Infant Theft Case Opens Again

CHICAGO (AP)—The mystery that enveloped the hoshpital kidnaping two years ago of 37-hour-old Paul Joseph Fronczak has been reopened with the adoption of a child by the parents.

Fronczak Infant

The infant was taken from Mrs. Chester Fronczak's arms in Michael Reese Hospital April 27, 1964, by a woman posing as a nurse.

The woman who said she was taking the infant for an examination, walked out of the hospital with the baby. They were never seen again.

The Fronczaks believed they have their son. He is a sandy-haired 2-year-old abandoned July 2 in Newark, N.J., and has been in an orphanage.

Neighbors said Mr. and Mrs. Fronczak have told them they are convinced the child is theirs.

The FBI, which has been investigating the case, refused to comment.

Satellites Performing Flawlessly

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The Air force readied another Titan 3-C rocket today for launch in about seven weeks to attempt to match the flawless eight-in-one orbital performance of a Titan that set up a military communications satellite system yesterday.

The seven radio relay stations and a research moonlet orbited in the spectacular shot were slowly drifting apart as planned today in their "creeping" orbits about 21,000 miles above the equator.

ALREADY 'TALKS'

But eight spacecraft were reported to be working well. Ths glittering 100-pound communications satellites have already "talked" to Army ground stations in New Jersey, California and Hawaii and were expected to be ready for full tests in about 10 days.

The eighth satellite, a research craft pioneering new control techniques, sprouted 52 foot booms after springing into orbit to see if earth's gravitational pull can be used to stabilize spacecraft in high orbits.

DIFFICULT SHOT

Project officials, heartened by the success of the difficult shot, said work was already underway for another eight-in-one launch in August to add seven more communications satellites to the Defense Department network.

The first stage for the next launch arrived at the Cape only hours before the launch of its predecessor.

With a third multiple launch this fall, the satellite system will be expanded to a total of 22 spacecaft and virtually guarantee uninterrupted radio links between Washington and in Viet Nam and around the world.

Arizona Forests Ravaged By Fires

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Fires raged out of control in the Tonto and Coronado national forests late yesterday with new ones being reported at the rate of nearly one an hour.

Eleven new lightning-caused fires were reported in southern Arizona as the parched brush and forest ranges offered prime fuel to the spreading blazes.

The largest blazes, however, were in the Tonto Forest, where up to 5,000 acres were razed.

A U.S. Forest Service spokesman said that 550 men, including Indian fire fighters, were battling the fires in the Superstition Mountain area.

U.S., Russia Submit Moon Treaty Plans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The United States and the Soviet Union, in different U.N. organs, hoday backed rival treaties to neutralize the moon and other heavenly bodies.

U.S. Ambassador Arttur J. Goldberg requested the 28-nation U.N. Committee on the Peaceful Uses of Outer Space to meet July 12 to consider a draft treaty he submitted late yesterday to Austrian Ambassador Kurt Waildheim, chairman of the group.

Earlier in the day, Ambassador Platon D. Morozov, acting chief of the Soviet delegation, submitted to Secretary General Thant a similar draft treaty which he suggested be taken up directly by the General Assembly at its fall session scheduled for Sept. 20.

President Johnson on May 7 proposed that the United Nations take up a treaty guaranteeing freedom of the moon and other celestial bodies for scientific exploration, and assuring the demilitarization of space and all it might contain.

On May 30, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko sent a letter to Thant that was strikingly similar to Johnson's proposals.

Most Of Viet War Dead Recorded During Past Year

NEW YORK (AP) — In nearly five and one-half years of war in Viet Nam, the United States has lost 3,804 men to enemy action, 3,454 of them since June 1, 1965, a study of casualty figures showed today. The South Vietnamese reported nearly 11,000 battle dead in the period since June 1965.

The sharp increase in the number of Americans killed over the past year demonstrates the heavy buildup of U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

The heaviest weekly toll of U.S. servicemen killed in action was 224 in the week ending Nov. 22, 1965.

In three weeks this year, in the April and May period in which the Saigon government turned its attention to the quelling of an internal effort to overthrow it, the number of American battle dead exceeded the South Vietnamese.

In the period June 1, 1965 to May 31, 1966, the United States reported 3,203 battle dead, with 251 added in the first two weeks of this month. U.S. wounded reported from June 1, 1965 to May 31, 1966 totalled 17,979.

Chicago Quiet

CHICAGO (AP) — Everything appeared quiet today in the Puerto Rican neighborhood on Chicago's Northwest Side where rioting erupted early this week. Three hundred policemen remained on duty in the 16-block area 15 minutes from downtown Chicago.

Reuther Defeated In Bitter Clash

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany is winner and still champion of the big labor federation after a bitter clash with Walter P. Reuther over foreign policy.

Wielding words like a plumber's wrench, Meany yesterday denied Reuther's charges that the AFL-CIO was undermining President Johnson's efforts to "build bridges" of understanding to the Communist world.

MEANY FUMES

"A damnable lie," "contemptible" and "slanderous" ex-plumber Meany fumed at Auto Workers President Reuther and his brother, Victor.

The Reuther brothers attacked Meany for boycotting the International Labor Organization after it elected a Communist president; charged that the AFL-CIO was allowing itself to be used as a front by the Central Intelligence Agency and using its influence to block State Department visas to Communists in some exchange programs.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council gave Meany an 18-6 vote of confidence after hours of wrangling in a closed session which one member described as a "horrible" exchange of "invective."

TELLS OF TACTICS

Meany said at a news conference afterward that he had talked to both President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk after AFL-CIO delegates walked out of the Geneva conference of the ILO when Leon Chajn of Communist Poland was elected president.

Neither Johnson nor Rusk asked him to order the U.S. labor delegates back, Meany said, and emphasized the AFL-CIO would continue to work in the ILO and try to "save it" from a Communist takeover.

Walter Reuther replied mildly through an aide that he was "happy to hear the AFL-CIO will not pull out of the ILO."

Reuther declined to hold a news conference.

Meany said Walter Reuther's charge that the ILO walkout was planned a week in advance was "a damnable lie"; that Victor Reuther's charge of fronting for the CIA was "slanderous" and that Walter Reuther's leaking of the dispute to newsmen was "contemptible."

Invasion Charged

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba charged today that three U.S. F-8 Crusader jets from the Guantanamo Naval Base violated airspace last Wednesday.

Mexicans Drive Out 'Peace Corps'

PUEBLA, Mexico (UPI) —A mob shouting "death to Protestants and Communists!" drove a dozen young Texans belonging to a "private peace corps" out of the village of San Sebastian Tepetlaxco Wednesday, it was reported today.

The mob was armed with sticks and stones and at least one pistol. None of the Texans was injured.

Two jeeploads of state police rushed to the village to rescue the beleaguered Americans. The Roman Catholic archdiocese of Puebla sent a priest to pacify the villagers.

The Texans, most of them students in their teens and early 20s, are members of the Wesley (Methodist) Foundation's Sam Houston College chapter. The Rev. Glenn Polan heads the group.

Arthur Chaffee, an agricultural expert employed by the Methodist church here, said the Texans went to the village to build a school annex.

U.S. Is Seeking Way To Remove Judges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —A U.S. Senate subcommittee was told today a California commission has found it necessary to make only one recommendation for removal of a judge as unfit. And that once the state Supreme Court refused to remove him.

But the very existence of the commission has had a salutary effect on the judiciary, testified Phil Gibson, retired chief justice of the state Supreme Court.

Sen. Joseph B. Tydings, D - Md., chairman of the subcommittee, explained that his group is looking into California's methods while "concerned that the federal judicial system lacks adequate and fair methods for removing unfit judges from the bench." He emphasized that the inquiry "is not intended as a criticism of the fine men and women who occupy the federal bench."

Jack E. Frankel, executive secretary of the California Commission on Judicial Qualifications, said the commission made five preliminary investigations in 1964 and six last year. Only one carried through to a recommendation of removal and the state Supreme Court refused to follow the recommendation.

Gibson said the commission has been able in many cases to secure the retirement of judges who, because of illness or age, are no longer capable o f performing duties.

He praised the generous salary and retirement structure of the California judicial system.

Bank Burglars Depart —How?, With What?

Burglars climbed onto the roof of the Redwood National Bank in San Rafael sometime last night, pried up a shuttle in the roof, and let themselves in without tripping any alarms.

Police were trying to find out today what the agile burglars took and how they got out.

A homemade ladder, evidently used to climb to the bank from the roof of the adjacent arcade, was left on top of the roof, showing it was not used for the departure.

Bank officials were reluctant to report any possible loss until an investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been completed.

Entry was discovered shortly after 8:30 a.m. today when employees arrived for work and discovered signs of the intruders.

Keys had been moved on the desk of bank president Byron W. Leydecker.

A paper bag containing an employee's shoes was missing, but the shoes were left.

ARRESTS

was knocked to the ground.

Scott raced around the car, stood over the struggling men and kicked Keaton in the neck, shoulders and stomach.

Meanwhile, deputies Raymond Von Savoye, Carl Wiese, William Keaton, Dennis Shine, Billy Dews and Wyman Tong arrived on the scene.

Scott was dragged away and handcuffed inside a patrol car. While Hayden was being restrained, an unlooker opened the car door and freed Scott.

Scott returned to the fighting and began kicking deputies again. Eventually, he was returned to the car a second time and both he and Hayden were taken to Marin County Jail.

Keaton, bleeding from the nose and his uniform torn in several places, was taken to Marin General Hospital. He was treated for cuts to the right knee and face, arm and neck injuries. Shoe marks were clearly visible on his shirt.

Sheriff's officers said today it would be several days before he could return to duty.

During the 20-minute disturbance, deputies reported several spectators tried to prevent them making arrests. One was said to have pushed away an officer and say: "Leave me alone or you're going to burn, baby."

Scott is awaiting trial in Superior Court on two counts charging battery against Deputy Charles Prandi and Deputy Carl Wiese in Marin City April 4.

In addition to charges arising was charged with having no lifrom today's assault, Hayden cense in his possession, driving a car with faulty headlights and refusing to sign a citation.

Youths Hurl Rock At Humphrey Car

WASHINGTON (AP)—A car carrying Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was hit by a stone thrown near his suburban home early this morning.

A Secret Service agent who chased and caught two youths in a nearby alley was slightly injured in scuffling with them.

A spokesman for Humphrey said the right front window of the vice president's car was chipped but not shattered by the rock. It caused no injuries.

The spokesman said there was no indication the youths knew Humphrey was in the limousine. The only other persons in the vice president's car were the chauffeur and another Secret Service agent.

Jordan said he also will take up election tallying problems when he meets with members of the County Clerks Association of California at the group's Aug. 8 meeting in Sacramento.

The Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. board last night heard a report from Robert Flanders on a study committee he heads which will investigate the ramifications of a community services district, incorporation, annexation and a recreation services district for the association. The committee will make its final report Oct. 20.

The board authorized Harry Allen to investigate the work being done by the County Roads Department on Butterfield Road. He will report at the next meeting of the board at 8 p.m. July 7 in the clubhouse.

Small Army Nabs Truant Elephants

CHICAGO (UPI) —Two female elephants escaped a carnival in suburban Franklin Park today and went on a four-hour rampage through backyards and busy streets before they were captured.

Sixty-five policemen from three suburban communities, representatives of the sheriff's office, plus four handlers finally corraled the elephants, one five miles from where the escape point.

Barbara, 20, and Kay, 18, bolted from their handlers as they were being transferred to a van at the Kelly-Miller Circus, which had given performances at a Franklin Park factory.

Budget Talks Halt For Behr Apology

County Supervisor Peter H. Behr today halted county budget sessions briefly to apologize for saying yesterday that fellow Supervisor Thomas T. Storer was being "political."

"I regret the remark, which was made in the time of battle," he said. "It was completely uncalled for."

Storer flashed a smile down the board table and said: "I am most appreciative of this. I realize that in the heat of combat some of us sometimes say regrettable things."

TANKERS AFLAME—British tanker Alva Cape, foreground, burns after colliding in New York harbor with another tanker, Texaco Massachusetts, visible through smoke. At least 20 crewmen died in the aftermath of yesterday's collision. (AP Wirephoto)

Seamen Perish In Flames As Tankers Ram, Explode

NEW YORK (AP)—At least 20 were dead today following a flaming collision of two tankers in Kill Van Kull Channel in New York Harbor.

Of the 101 crewmen on the tankers and two escorting tugs caught in the flames, the Coast Guard listed 12 as missing, with 69 survivors, 40 of them hospitalized.

Witnesses said one of the tugs exploded, igniting naphtha leaking from the British tanker Alva Cape after its collision yesterday with the Texaco Massachusetts, an American tanker heading back for the Gulf of Mexico after discharging its cargo in New York.

Crewmen from both ships and the tugs clambered overboard only to find the water a boiling sea of flame from the burning naphtha.

Coast Guard and police rescuers in boats and helicopters plucked survivors from the sea. There were tales of heroism among the crewmen.

"There was a man in every man," said Alfonso Colon, 56, chief pumpman of the Texaco Massachusetts in discussing the heroism of the men in the fiery water.

Colon said his ship struck the Alva Cape and "cut through them like a knife.

The Coast Guard said the tug, the Esso Vermont, apparently exploded when the naphtha — a petroleum distillate — washed ed over its engines. Eight of the Esso Vermont's nine-man crew were reported missing. One was rescued.

'Berserk' Skipper Jumps Overboard

HONOLULU (AP)—A yachting skipper, whose head was injured in an accident, went berserk and jumped overboard to his death, crewmen told the Coast Guard yesterday.

The Coast Guard said it was investigating the death of Leo Woyshner, 33, of Newport Beach. Woyshner was said to have jumped overboard Tuesday 250 miles northeast of Honolulu.

Edward Gray, 24, an Australian, and William Jarrell, 29, of LaGrange, Ga., said the skipper was hurt Monday in a shipboard accident.

SOMETHING TO HANG BUDGET ON

You might expect a costumer to be found in the budget for a college drama department, but what is a costumer doing, at $25, in the budget for the Marin County counsel's office for fiscal 1967?

That was what county supervisors wanted to know yesterday.

"That's an administrative euphemism for a hat rack," County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney explained.

Supervisors had a good laugh over that, but wanted the name changed just the same. There was some doubt that the county's electronic brain would accept the change, but supervisors ordered it just the same.

"Actually, it's a coat rack," Maloney said.

Inn License Hearing

The liquor license of Eric Hodgman's Prince Charlie Inn of Tiburon will come under scrutiny of an Alcoholic Beverage Control examiner Monday at 9:30 a.m. in the multi-purpose room of Del Mar School, Tiburon. Examiner E. A. McDonald will investigate complaints that Hodgeman may be operating his pub in violation of liquor license laws.

County Cracks Down On Car, Phone Use

Supervisors yesterday called for a crackdown on employee use of cars and telephones, seeking to trim any excesses from the budget for fiscal 1967.

They learned that nine employees are still driving county cars or trucks home at night without board authority.

The county vehicles are those assigned district attorney Bruce Bales, County Superintendent of Schools Virgil S. Hollis, undersheriff Sidney Stinson, a sheriff patrol captain, Asst. Public Works Director Arthur T. Knudson, garage superintendent Mario T. Balestrieri, landscape foreman Floyd Hoveland, building maintenance foreman William Sullivan and an assistant to the road superintendent.

In discussing the communications budget with director Mansfield Lewis, the board learned that long distance calls are checked by his department to be sure they are legitimate county business.

County Administrator Alan Bruce told the board that such calls as a half hour conversation between the assessor's office and Los Angeles and a phone call to Alaska by the county superintendent of schools were reported to him by Lewis.

This prompted further inquiry on school telephone use yesterday. Lewis said that the average bill for the three busiest months was $770 for the schools office when it was at the Civic Center. Lewis said he knew this would go up with an independent switboard when the office moved to the old McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. building in Corte Madera and allowed $1,000 a month. But the first full month billing came to $1,200.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker cautioned fellow board members against asking school Superintendent Hollis about the matter.

"He'll give us a brochure with his picture on the front and it will be in three colors," Leydecker said.

The school's budget will be before the board on Wednesday.

White Backlash Hurt Him, Governor Says

STANFORD (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown says a "white backlash" hurt him in the primary election, but he believes he will win in November because "two-thirds of the people of California are moderates and progressives."

The Democratic governor gave a detailed appraisal of his chances for a third term yesterday in an interview and in a speech before the Associated Press News Executives Council of California-Nevada. The council is holding its 20th annual meeting on the Stanford campus.

Ronald Reagan, the Republican candidate for governor, had been invited three months ago to share the platform with Brown, but he declined. He was in Washington.

Flying from Sacramento to the Bay Area, the governor talked about the primary campaign about his hopes of winning another term in November.

He said a backlash reaction of white voters, dissatisfied with his policy toward Negroes, will be one "of my biggest problems."

"I've had a two-fold approach," he told a reporter.

He said he backed law enforcement, but "on the other hand I've tried to find out the causes of unrest because they'll be with us for a long time."

But he said Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, who won strong support in his unsuccessful bid to defeat Brown in the Democratic primary, "very cleverly used the white backlash."

In a question and answer period following his speech to the news executives, Brown said Reagan also tried to take advantage of white resentment to administration policies.

Brown, in an unexpectedly early opening to his fall campaign, repeatedly jibed at Reagan's background, pointing out he was a Hollywood actor making his first try for political office.

Referring to Reagan's statement that he is a "citizen politician" with a deep interest in government, Brown brought up the mythical example of a patient awaiting surgery.

"A man walks in, pulling on his surgical mask and gloves," Brown said. "A worried nurse says, 'Can you save the patient, Mr. Jones?' and the poor patient says, 'Mr. Jones?'

"And Mr. Jones looks down at him and says: 'Have no fear. I am your citizen surgeon. And I have always had an active interest in medicine.'

"And what are Mr. Reagan's credentials for stepping into the top job in the nation's top state?" Brown asked. "That is very much an issue.

"He says nobody can hang a Barry Goldwater image on him. He's right. Goldwater has done it already."

Brown said Reagan has opposed federal medicare, aid to education and proposals to ban state right to work laws.

He asked if Reagan will now oppose implementation of federal medical and educational aid and will favor a California right to work law.

In the interview, Brown said Reagan's credentials to serve will be a major campaign issue.

"I'm going to campaign on the issues completely," he said. "I will talk about the fact that this man has had no experience whatsoever. He has never appeared before a committee, except the House Committee on Un-American Activities."

HORSE RIDER CHOPS WAY TO GRADUATION

Peter Helms impressed his neighbors, friends and especially his daughter, Sally, last night with his on-time arrival for her graduation from the Sleepy Hollow School eighth grade.

At 5p.m., he was horesback riding with the Sonoma County Trailblazers near Middleton, Lake County. He arrived home with time to spare 45 minutes later, dropping gently into his back yard in a helicopter he had chartered.

He had planned all along to attend the graduation, but yesterday decided he wanted to spend a few more hours horse back riding.

"I got the whole day in up there and still got home in time," he said. "That's a lot better than driving."

Vatican Limits Bishops' Powers Over Celibacy

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today limited the powers of Roman Catholic bishops to make exceptions to Church rules on celibacy, marriage and the life of priests and nuns

In the decree, which goes into effect Aug. 15, the Pope granted bishops the right to make minor exceptions to rules on celibacy, age limits for marriage, and for the priesthood, and on the outward style of life for nuns and members of religious orders.

But he reserved solely for the head of the Church the right to make any more basic changes.

On celibacy, he ruled that local bishops could decide whether to lift the celibacy requirement for a subdeacon who abandons his priestly studies. But the Pope reserved for himself the power to make exceptions to the rule for deacons and for priests who become laymen.

Airport Loan Is Tossed Out

The involved plan to finance county airport development through a loan from the county retirement fund is not feasible.

County supervisors got this word late yesterday from a contrite County Administrator Alan Bruce who said that both he and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney had erred in the recommendation.

Unfortunately, the assumption that it would be possible, has put supervisors "in a box" with the county budget, he said.

The $195,000 collected as a special airport fund from two years of taxation, was removed from Bruce's recommended budget for fiscal 1967, with $100,000 going into the general fund and $95,000 into carry over reserves. The projected tax rate would have to be increased to restore the fund.

Bruce's confession prompted a stinging reprimand from Supervisor William A. Gnoss who has been doing a slow boil over the proposed financing since the airport budget was first discussed Wednesday afternoon.

"You had absolutely no right to take it out of there without consulting me or the aviation commission," Gnoss said.

He insisted that the board restore the $195,000 to the airport budget. "I'll see that this room is filled with protests," he said.

But supervisors did not solve the problem yesterday. They only tried to understand it.

Bruce said that his recommendation was based on an incomplete opinion from Maloney's office. Maloney told supervisors that the retirement fund, to effect the loan, would have to take title to the airport and lease it to the county during the term of the loan. Payment on the lease would serve to retire the loan.

Maloney said the federal aviation agency, being asked to finance 54 per cent of the improvements, would not approve a grant if such a transfer of property were made. He said some arrangement might be possible with the retirement board for financing improvements, but the property would have to be held by the county.

Another complication in the problem is that county cost of development is now estimated at $260,000. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said this is $100,000 higher than earlier estimates.

He argued for a bond issue to raise the county share of the cost, but Gnoss argued for funding through increase in the tax rate.

"But the price tax has gone up $100,000," Kettenhofen said.

"We're in a box for fair," Gnoss said.

Fellow supervisors agreed to discuss the problem further, perhaps in a joint session with members of the aviation commission.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer was absent yesterday afternoon. He explained prior to leaving that he had a conference with Gov. Edmund G. Brown to discuss property tax relief.

Auto Passenger Is Released

Mrs. Dorothy Hamilton, 53, was released yesterday from Marin General Hospital, where she had been kept for observation and treated for cervical sprain following an accident Tuesday on Highway 101 north of Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Paul E. Hamilton, 55, when, according to the California Highway Patrol, it was hit from behind by a car driven by Robert D. Moser, 18, of 35 McNear Drive, San Rafael.

Board Would Combine Coroner, Health Offices

Marin supervisors want to confer soon with Coroner-Elect Donovan Cooke to determine his opinion of merging the coroner's office with the county health department.

Such a move would require state legislation and it could not be put into effect until the end of Cooke's term at the soonest.

Supervisors asked County Administrator Alan Bruce to give further study to possible merger of the Community Mental Health Department with the County Medical Department.

Both suggestions arose out of budget deliberations by supervisors yesterday. Neither would effect the $24.9 million budget recommended for fiscal 1967.

The board approved a $26,017 budget for the human rights commission, creating the position of an executive director at $11,520 a year and a clerk at $6,120 a year.

The board also approved a budget of $59,991 for minority employment services.

Both the above budgets were originally included in Bruce's recommendation for a community services department with a $106,051 budget. Supervisors had earlier voted this down.

The board added a personnel analyst to the personnel department, adding $11,010 to that budget. Bruce had already recommended an additional clerk.

Frederick Ward, manager of the Marin County Employees' Assn. urged addition of two analysts, saying that many job descriptions were in need of revision, but supervisors stuck to Bruce's recommendation for one added man.

Supervisors learned that the revenue bureau will soon take over collections now handled by probation officers in court referrals. The revenue agent's budget of $32,336, up $2,000 over this year, was approved.

Also approved with small changes were budgets for the auditor-controller, assessor, data processing and county counsel.

Charles Brown Is Honored

Sausalito City Mgr. Charles A. Brown was honored at a farewell dinner last night at the Alta Mira Hotel at which time he was given a painting and a pen and pencil set.

The painting of Richardson Bay and Sausalito was made by Mario Imlay, wife of city councilman Alexander R. Imlay. About 35 persons attended, including many past and present city officials.

Brown will leave next month to become a municipal adviser with the State Department's agency for international development in Caracas, Venezuela. His replacement has not yet been named.

The first woman governor in the United States was Miriam (Ma) Ferguson, governor of Texas 1925-27 and 1933-35.

GASOLINE HELPS SPREAD HOME FIRE

Bernard Dykhause, in the process of moving out of his home at 23 Onyx Avenue, Larkspur, was burning some termite infested wood in his fireplace last night and decided he wanted it to burn faster.

He poured some gasoline from a jug onto the fire and watched in horror as the flames flashed out onto the floor and back into the jug. He dropped the jug and the fire spread with the leaking fuel on the floor.

Twenty Larkspur firemen with four trucks responded and stopped the blaze before it could leave the rugs in front of the fireplace. Firemen estimated damage at $300.

State Budget Vote Is Urged For Monday

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Speed replaced leisure as the legislative byword today just as the 1966 session tied another mark for length of an election - year meeting.

With the Senate putting mounting pressure on the Assembly to stop dragging its feet and head for adjournment, lawmakers broke for what could be their last three-day weekend.

When they return Monday, major decisions that could lead to fast adjournment will be on the agenda, with leaders in both houses determined to prod their flocks to votes.

Today became the 120th calendar day of the 1966 session, longest in an election year since a series of 120 - day sessions from 1878 back through 1864. The all-time mark for longevity of a legislative session in a voting year is 134 days, set in 1854.

But the pace of what has been a slow, relatively inactive year in the Capitol picked up yesterday. Senate President Pro tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno ,continued to push his colleagues toward action. He was successful in a move to advance floor votes on bills by one day, getting the upper house to waive its rule that requires a second reading of a bill that has come from committee before it can go onto the third reading file for final voting.

Earlier, he had prodded the Senate Finance Committee to approve its version of the budget to run the state in the fiscal year starting July 1. It took the committee only three minutes, without debate, to send to the floor a $4.61 billion budget.

That is $30 million less than the Assembly version of the spending program now pending before its Ways and Means Committee. It is $32 million below the revised $4.64 billion outlay proposed by Gov. Brown.

Burns said he wanted to vote on the budget Monday, and Finance Committee Chairman Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez, declared: "This gives notice to every man in the Senate that if he wants to vote on the budget, for or against, Monday's the day to be here."

Approval of the upper house version of the budget bill would put pressure on the Assembly to pass its bill, thus sending it to the usual two-house conference committee which will produce a final compromise.

However, Assembly Republicans—some of whose votes are required for passage of the budget —are withholding their consent and demanding $160 million in cuts in the budget itself and a $295 million state building bond also pending.

Brown Asks Yorty To Discuss Riots

SACRAMENTO (AP) —In a conciliatory letter, Gov. Brown has invited Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty to a conference in the Capitol to discuss riot prevention laws the mayor has requested.

In a letter to the man he narrowly defeated last week in the Democratic gubernatorial primary, the governor told Yorty Thursday his opinion "carries great weight with me."

He suggested that Yorty and his legal staff meet with Brown and legislative leaders at 3 p.m. Monday to talk over the matter.

In Massachusetts it is illegal to travel with a horsedrawn sleigh "unless there are at least three bells attached to some part of the harness."

Newly opened in Corte Madera is Skipper's Restaurant at 60 Corte Madera Avenue - where Tia's Coffee Shop used to be.

As small as it is, it's still larger than the Skipper's Coffee Shop owner Gerhard and Leilani Sterkel used to have in Tiburon. That, says Gehard, was too tiny for him to get into any kind of extensive food operation. Eventually he'd like to serve dinners at Corte Madera and show what he can do. He is German and has been cooking for about 20 years in Europe, locally at Alta Mira Hotel and West End Villa and at Bimbo's in the city.

Present hours are from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and to about 3 on Saturdays. Closed Sundays. Mostly short orders now, with some hot entrees. When he gets into serving dinners you can look for sauerbraten and other German dishes and some of the popular Italian ones. But that may be a month away.

THE JACK DAHL TRIO is still performing Friday and Saturday nights for dancing and listening at Black Point Inn, and racking up more fans each performance. Their music is not rock and roll but reminiscent of the big name bands. Jack and June Dahl had their own night club in Phoenix and seem to have a preference for settling down in this area. They are Capitol recording stars and have with them in the trio at Black Point Al Winterhalder, rated by many as among the top 10 sax players in the country.

They're good — no doubt about it. But there are other attractions at Black Point Inn to make your visit doubly enjoyable. One very important thing is the Chinese fare of Al and Joe Louie who have been feeding Marinites for so many years it's hard to remember when they weren't.

And you might bear in mind that the swimming pool is now open to the public and no membership is required. There's a snack bar open daily on the patio and that area is particularly populer during recent high temperatures in Marin.

FOR WARM WEATHER EATING, there's a cozy outdoor patio at Restaurant de L'Europe, 2214 Fourth Street, San Rafael—large enough to hold quite a flurry of dinners. Something like a French sidewalk cafe—except that the tables are obscured from the street side. Leo Cantayre and Fritz Verburg are using the area for both lunches and dinners.

And for these current temperatures I've urged them to serve wine coolers with meals. They've agreed it's a good idea and are also going in for coffee specials.

OPENING of the Kublai Khan restaurant in Strawberry Town and Country Village has been postponed until July 1. Owner Stanley Toy believes special equipment in the kitchen for cooking Chinese food can be readied by then.

AND BEN FARLATTI has set up July 1 as a target date for the opening of Tiburon Lodge. We hope he makes it.

LAST I HEARD, Tom Siddle, owner of the popular Anglo-Irish Cat and Fiddle bar and grill in Sausalito, was in the French hospital, San Francisco, but due to return home shortly. We wish him a speedy recovery.

HERE'S AN ITEM on the a la carte new menu at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa that should send any couple home happy: A whole roasted four-pound capon flambe (mostly white meat) carved at the table and served with a champagne sauce. One of chef Camille Bamatter's little treats. For a party of two the tab is $4.50 each, but you do get to take home the balance of the capon for midnight picking.

Interesting other tidbits scattered throughout the menu: Prosciutto ham with fruit in season, as an appetizer; South American hearts of palm salad with green goddess dressing or blue cheese dressing. Nectar of abalone (one of Bill Bisson's special soup recipes). Fried cream flambe — just the right thing to top off your meal.

THE WINDJAMMER in Tiburon has weathered its "shakedown cruise" and is accepting boarders at the foot of Main Street. Dinner patrons would now do well to make reservations here—skipper Don Altenburg says he is now accepting them. If you haven't lunched or dined here yet, you're missing one of Marin's attractive new restaurants.

LIBATION SPECIAL at Tiburon Tommie's Mai Tai is the Hawaiian okolehau, which may taste like corn whisky but is made from the native ti root. Literal translation for okolehau, I'm told, is "iron bottom"—named for a pair of curvacious iron pots used in distilling the liquor. I don't happen to have a Kanaka linguist at my elbow at the moment — and it's true there are other popular translations.

I HADN'T NOTICED Jim Bigelow of Sam's in Tiburon and wife Bonnie returning from these frequent golf holidays with any particular tournament laurels - but their last one at Morro Bay brought them a score they hadn't expected. Here - not at Morro Bay. One beauty queen named Cheryl Blaney, sponosred by Sam's - made "Miss Marin."

THERE'S A BEAUTIFUL mural at Rubini's in Fairfax, and with all respect for the talents of the fine artists who display their works for month-long periods this scene has a continuous run, year in, year out, outlasting them all.

Unlike the others it's not for sale and remains for all diners to gaze upon and admire according to their individual table seatings and the lighting of the hour. Personally I prefer to view it from across the room and take in the full perspective. And the best hour to my mind is just about dusk.

I'm speaking, of course, of the window wall of the dining room which overlooks the creek and trees. An unsurpassed work of art and no signature is needed in the right hand corner to identify the Master's hand who created it.

This, no doubt, is one of the reasons diners return again and again to Rubini's, though for those less artistic in their appreciation the straightforward cooking of partner-chef Gordon Jones is reason enough and hard to beat. I have yet to see a plate come out of the kitchen that isn't prepared for a healthy appetite.

Take one item alone. It's called "Betty's Neptune Steak," and it immediately caught the eye of my wife Betty, though it was named for another. It's a rib-eye "pocket" steak, stuffed with crab, lobster and prawns that have been previously sauteed in butter, chives and wine. The whole is then seared and broiled, served with butter sauce and topped with a button mushroom. No fare for a light eater. Have your full appetite with you when you get to work on it.

Table service at Rubini's is quite amazing and I'd say that only at the most crowded times is there likely to be any delay. Even then any temporary hold-up is usually corrected quickly. Generally the timing is done with split-second precision - a favorable commentary on the staff.

And either before or after your repast you should tarry a bit in the lounge where Lowell Hawk, who looks something like Ronnie Regan and plays like Jan August, is still as popular as he was when he came here six or seven years ago.

Each visitor has his own particular dominant reason for liking Rubini's. The best part is - it wears well through many sittings.

RECORDING STARS — June and Jack Dahl are featured entertainers Friday and Saturday nights at Black Point Inn.

'Ladybird' World War II Code Word

DETROIT (UPI) — Most Americans hear "Ladybyrd" and think of President Johnson's wife.

But some World War II veterans know the name has another meaning. According to the Code Names Dictionary, Ladybird was used as a code name for Nakajima Tama, a locale in Japan, during the war.

Pigeon Feeder Given Jail Term

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mrs. Geraldine Southworth, 52, told a Municipal Court Judge Thursday, "I want to plead guilty... I did it, I fed the pigeons...I'm guilty and I'll do it again... a dumb law."

Judge Albert Axelrod sentenced her to 30 days in jail, with one day suspended.

Mrs. Southworth, cited Tuesday on a city ordinance, said her interest in civil rights led her to pigeon-feeding. "They're being discriminated against," she said.

The plane's wreckage was spotted Thursday off Vandenberg Air Force Base, the Coast Guard said.

The victims, real estate salesmen, were identified as Floyd E. McKalson, 64, Del Mar; Leo R. Demars, 49, Lemon Grove, and Emanuel Berman, 56, Samuel Nachisin, 55, Albert H. Bruegger, 35, and Ronald L. Reynolds, 51, of San Diego.

The men left San Diego early yesterday for Shelter Cove, north of Fort Bragg on the Northern California coast to inspect real estate developments.

SNCC LEADER ARRESTED — A Greenwood policeman rushes in to arrest Stokely Carmichael, head of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, as Carmichael and others were erecting a tent. The arrest was made at a school yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

'Want Black Power,' Negro Marcher Shouts

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — "We want black power! We want black power!" the 1,000 Negroes chanted it again and again.

On the back of a truck, facing them ona lighted baseball field last night, stood Stokely Carmichael, head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. He and two others in the Mississippi march had just come from seven hours in jail.

"Everybody owns our neighborhood except us," Carmichael roared. "We outnumber the whites in this county; we want black power. That's what we want. Black power!"

Carmichael's speech climaxed the most troubled day of the march since James H. Meredith, the first Negro known to have graduated from the University of Mississippi, was shot and wounded June 6.

There were these developments:

Police jailed Carmichael; Bob Smith, an SNCC worker; and Bruce Baines, an official of the Congress of Racial Equality, when they insisted on erecting the marchers' two huge tents on the grounds of the Stone Street Negro Elementary School. They were charged with trespassing and freed on $100 bond each.

Later, the marchers put up the tents in Broad Street Park, defying police who stood by with billy clubs. "I don't care what the white people of Greenwood say, we're going to stay in this park tonight," shouted George Raymond of the Freedom Democratic party. After a tense 45 minutes, in which 1,000 people angrily milled about the city gave permission for use of the park.

On Mississippi 7 into Greenwood, two carloads of white youths drove back and forth alongside the procession, shouting "Look at that black boy walk!" and "You mean that nigger?" Robert Green, the march leader, stopped one car and — pointing to the driver — shouted to highway patrolmen: "We've had enough of that! He's been harassing us. I want this stopped." The patrol ordered the young man — who said he was a student at the University of Alabama — out of the area.

Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. said in Jackson "We are not going to wet nurse a bunch of showmen all over the country," and ordered the patrol contingent that has guarded the marchers for 130 miles to be cut from 20 men to four.

Pool Withdrawn

WASHINGTON (AP) — After neighbors said it would be an eyesore and a nuisance, Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., withdrew an application to build a swimming pool in front of his home in Washington.

Suspected Attacker Posts Bond

HERNANDO, Miss. (AP) — Aubrey James Norvell, the man charged with attempting to murder James Meredith on his march through Mississippi, posted $25,000 bond and left jail here today.

Defense attorney Edward Lee Whitten of Hernando said Norvell left jail "in good spirits" and headed home to Memphis with his wife, his father and brother.

"The people of the midsouth had an indignation due to the fact that Judge Walter M. O'Barr would not lower the bond," said Whitten.

"They started a Norvell legal aid fund and sent the necessary 10 per cent cash and collateral to Memphis, Tenn.," he said.

Whitten said he and his law partner, Boyce Lee Garner, were continuing their investigation and "everything we find makes our case look better.

Marin City Project 'In Driver's Seat'

The Marin City Community Services District is going to have its new $357,000 community center constructed by as many Marin City hands as possible.

District board members reported last night that the building contract will have strict requirements to insure that minority workers are hired.

John A. Thomson, board secretary, said, "It won't be enough just to take members of minorities, but the contractor must advertise for them, seek after them."

Chairman Jesse E. Barry said there has been a "lot of doubletalk" on other projects in Marin, but it will be different on this job.

"This is the first time we're sitting in the driver's seat," he said.

The board also voted to hire Karl Treffinger of Belvedere as architect of the center to be known as Manzanita Neighborhood Center.

Donald Warden, representing the Afro-American Assn. and Dignity Homes, restated his proposal to build a pre-fabricated recreation center, using about 100 Marin City youths as builders.

Warden also asked the board to give him the authority to solicit funds for his proposed center.

Berry said the board would ask County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney if it could legally grant Warden such authority.

Warden, a San Francisco lawyer, said he felt there is no reason why he couldn't be granted the authority to solicit.

"If we can have young people involved in this building, we should explore it," he said.

One member of the audience asked Warden if his source of funds "is the extreme right wing, separatist money."

"That's wrong," Warden replied. "No, that's a lie. Our source is 90 percent people who are domestics, porters, janitors . . . We have no ties with extreme right wingers in any form."

Warden contended that his proposal "would train and educate and philosophically buttress the war on poverty program."

When Berry lamented the inability to get a commercial shopping center in Marin City, Warden said he would explore the possibility of putting a factory in Marin City in connection with Dignity Homes for building of panels and distribution.

Board members passed a resolution that they would consider suggestions on the design of the community center if they are submitted to the architect by July 21.

They noted however that they could not change the basic plan approved by the federal government, which is providing $237,737, two thirds of the cost. Marin County will pay $118,918.

The Marin City Community District Board also:

1. Heard a report from Douglas J. Quiett, acting county director of community serivces, on the "total enrichment" program under the War on Poverty program which will provide activities in sports, arts and crafts, dance and music.

2. Approved the transfer of light fixtures from the community center, where they are not in use, to the Boys Club of Southern Marin, which is housed in the old maintenance building.

3. Contributed $100 to the Marin City Athletic League for its baseball teams.

Merchants Stay Away From Session

San Anselmo city councilmen and planning commissioners last night attended a meeting called to get merchants' thoughts on a proposal to make San Anselmo Avenue a one-way street, but ended up talking mostly among themselves.

The item they kept returning to during their two hour discussion at Wade Thomas School was the fact that only six merchants bothered to attend the meeting called for their benefit.

Under the proposal, part of the Sir Francis Drake Boulevard widening project, San Anselmo Avenue would be one way in two directions from Ross Avenue.

Mayor John M. Reichmuth closed the discussion by asking that the proposal be placed on the next council agenda. Engineers working on the Drake widening project want tentative council approval on the one-way street so they can draw up plans and specifications.

Also present at last night's meeting were Ross town councilmen Roy Farrington Jones and Mrs. Natalie G. Lewis. Councilman Robert M. Scott of San Anselmo was absent.

Organ Club To Dine, Install President

Concert organist Frank Stitt of Kentfield will perform for the Marin Baldwin Organ Club Tuesday at the club's dinner meeting which starts at 6:30 p.m. at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Paul Cinq Mars of Lucas Valley will be installed as president of the club.

Bay Area Press Is Accused Of 'Blowing Up' Reports

The Bay Area press was rapped for "blowing up" incidents in Marin City and "twisting" reports at a meeting of the Marin City Community Services District last night.

The irresponsibility of the newspapers and magazines is such that it creates the impression that Marin City "is a bunch of caged criminals," said Kenneth Hansen of 205 West Street, Sausalito.

Hansen, who works in the San Francisco school system, told of the impression people from the East Bay and the Peninsula have of Marin City from reading press stories.

"When I say I drive by Marin City every day, they ask how I escaped alive," he said. This, he contended "is absurd."

Hansen concluded, "They talk about responsible journalism — I'd like to see some."

District Chairman Jesse E. Berry noted that people have given statements that "reporters twisted to make news. I wish I had the answer, but this practice has been going on for 20 years. It didn't start yesterday with the I-J."

Berry suggested that one solution might be to "just don't give them anything to print."

After the meeting, Hansen said he was referring mainly to the San Francisco Chronicle and Examiner, not the Independent-Journal.

Earlier in the meeting Donald Warden, representing the Afro-American Assn. and Dignity Homes Inc., asked the board to seek retraction of two paragraphs which appeared in last Friday's Independent-Journal.

One paragraph said Warden suggested that if his proposed community center isn't built, there would be riots and vandalism in Marin City this summer.

"I definitely at no time said that," Warden declared.

John A. Thomson, board secretary, who attributed the comment to Warden, said, "That's the way I heard it."

Warden also objected to a paragraph stating that when the board didn't want to forfeit the federal grant for the center, he replied, "that's all right, I can raise $500,000." This, too, was attributed to Warden by Thomas.

"We said we would go out to get $500,000, and we're still anxious to try," he said. "We at no time said forget the federal money."

'Drunk Or Doped' Robber Murders Music Teacher

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A robber who, police said, appeared either drunk or under dope, shot and killed a music teacher Thursday night as the teacher escorted a woman and her daughter home from a church choir practice.

The robber fled after putting a 38-caliber bullet through the brain of LeRoy Johnson, 44.

Johnson had protested he did not have any money and the gunman declared: "You'd better find some. I mean business. I'll kill somebody."

When Johnson repeated that he had no money, the robber asked, "Which one of you am I going to shoot?"

Then he pointed a chrome-plated automatic at Johnson. The gun failed to fire the first time he pulled the trigger, but did the second time.

MOON SHADOWS IN MOSAIC

This is a spherical mosiac of narrow-angle photos showing the shadow of Surveyor I on the moon several hours before sunset. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration released this photo yesterday in Washington. It is made up of many of the 10,388 pictures Surveyor I has transmitted since it landed on the moon June 2. These photos were made June 13.

Scholarship Award

Steven Beckendorf of 17 Corte Gracitas, Greenbrae, has been awarded a three-year National Foundation scholarship for graduate study at the California Institute of Technology. He graduated last week from the University of California at Los Angeles with honors in zoology.

Clausen Supports School Fund Return

Rep. Don H. Clausen, R, First District, has assured the Larkspur Board of Education by letter that he supports the restoration of funds cut this year from federal appropriations to elementary schools, of which the Larkspur district last year received about $11,000.

The board last night also read a letter from Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, who was noncommital as to whether he would support restoration of the funds. The Johnson Administration has sought to reduce the expenditure under the Elementary School Education Act, passed last year, by about 15 per cent.

The board approved plans for the district summer school, which will be held at Neil Cummins School starting next Wednesday and running through July 22. About 400 children have registered for the classes.

The classes will be from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Vice-Principal Douglas Lindauer of Henry C. Hall School will be principal.

The Larkspur School Board also:

1. Approved hiring of two teachers at annual salary of $6,310 each. They are Gene Ng who will teach fourth grade at San Clemente School, and Peggy Lou Lurie who will teach second grade at Neil Cummins School.
2. Approved the use by Larkspur and Corte Madera of the Neil Cummins School grounds for the annual July 4 fireworks display, with the understanding that the newly turfed area south of the school building will not be disturbed.
3. Heard a report from District Nurse Mrs. Vi Forrester on the nursing activities of the past year, and her plans to work with teachers on health instruction next year.
4. Approved the hiring of the San Rafael accounting firm of Leader and Jarvis for an audit, cost not to exceed $900.
5. Adjourned until 8 p.m. July 1, when the board will hold a reorganization meeting in the Administration office, 20 Magnolia Avenue.

San Anselmans, Oil Company Discuss Building

About 35 San Anselmans showed up last night at the First Baptist Church on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to discuss with Union Oil Co. representatives the service station the oil company wants to build at Sonoma Avenue and Drake Boulevard, across from Isabel Cook School.

Albert J. Bianchi, attorney for the oil company, spoke for about 15 minutes and then the two sides exchanged views and questions for about two hours. Bianchi assured the gathering that Union had no intention of using the property for anything but a service station.

Union will again seek approval from the San Anselmo Planning Commission of its request for a permit to build the station, when the commission meets Monday evening. A previous application was approved by the planners but turned down by the city council.

Marinwood To Receive Gift Park

The Marinwood Community Services District board last night voted to accept a 2.1-acre lot in the Los Caballos Estates.

The developers dedicated it to the county, and the County will give it to the CSD.

The district will use the lot as a park site. A horse trail provides access to it; the development is planned for horse riding with lots exceding one acre in size.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Genevieve T. Bolding, who has served the district as business manager and secretary since it started six years ago. She said she wants to devote more time to her family.

Directors called for weed abatement on two vacant lots whose littered condition the board declared a public nuisance. The lots are south of the 200 block of Miller Creek Road and on the southwest corner of Las Gallinas Avenue and Blackstone Drive.

The board also:

1. Reappointed J. Dale Nystrom and Stewart Price to the Marinwood Fire Commission.
2. Appointed Manuel Morris and Robin Morton to the Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission.
3. Adjourned to 8 p.m. June 30, when it will discuss a preliminary budget.

Suspect Goes Free –But Only Briefly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Michael D. Aulet, 21, was courting trouble Thursday when he appeared in Sacramento Municipal Court for arraignment on five charges of burlgary.

Freed on bail after the hearing, Aulet stepped from the courtroom only to be arrested — this time on police charges he committed another burglary only hours before the arraignment.

Aulet, now charged with six burglaries, was confined to the city jail.

People who love to drive love the Corvair

Here's what David E. Davis, Jr., Publisher, Car & Driver Magazine, says:

Mr. Davis with a Corvair Monza Sport Coupe at a gymkhana put on by the Clinminger Corvair & Vette Club of Pomona, California.

David E. Davis, Jr.

"I guess I've been hooked on Corvair ever since 1959, when Chevrolet first introduced the car. It was a neat, quick little car, and it really turned me on, because, for the first time, the car enthusiasts of this country had a car that was really fun to drive—and there were reasons for that.

"For one thing, the car handled. People who tried it for the first time discovered a whole new feeling in cars. It was a responsive car that turned when you wanted it to turn, and went where you wanted it to go, and when you wanted it to stop, it stopped right now.

"It's been proved again and again that putting the engine in the rear, over the driving wheels, has definite advantages. When you combine that with Corvair's independent rear suspension, it results in a kind of magic ingredient that sets the car apart from others.

"The Corvair is the kind of car that has the unique ability to make your driving better and more skillful, a happy blend of spirit and good design and first-class handling characteristics.

"It's the kind of car that's fun to drive to work in the morning. Seriously, anybody who's never taken a test-drive in one ought to give it a try. It's a son of a gun!"

WE THINK YOU'LL LIKE CORVAIR SO WELL YOU MAY WANT TO BUY ANOTHER IN '67!

If you'd like one of these fun stickers for your present or new Corvair, just ask your Chevrolet dealer.

Don't Use Censorship To Fight Obscenity

Some of our churches are taking a stand against the "anti-obscenity" measure, which is being sponsored for the November ballot by a group known as CLEAN.

The fact that our churches are opposing this obscenity measure is all the more significant because they are traditionally our strongest bulwark against obscenity and moral decay.

Directors of the Northern California-Nevada Council of Churches met in Marin recently and announced opposition to the anti-obscenity measure. The directors admitted it is "appalled by the increased distribution of pornography" but added that no proof has been found to show that pornography is a definite cause of sexual misconduct. They declared that improvement in morals and taste through responsible education in the home, school and church seem infinitely more effective in checking pornography.

"Sweeping censorship has been known to enhance rather than limit the appeal of pornography," the directors pointed out.

The Rev. Robert W. Moon, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Fresno, warned that the "anti-obscenity" measure "would give a local jury ultimate power to decide what the people of a community might read." He added that the proposal would permit varying standards to prevail from community to community.

"If our laws need to be perfected, open debate in the Legislature is a surer way to produce wise legislation than the acceptance of an initiative prepared and promoted by zealots, as this one is," concluded the Reverend Moon.

These church officials are taking the stand that while pornography should be condemned at every turn, the protection of free expression is even more important in the long run.

Churches in the United States today enjoy religious freedom unfettered by anything resembling thought control. But this was not the case in early U.S. history and is not the case in other parts of the world today.

Rather than bow to stringent "anti-obscenity" laws that jeopardize hard-won freedoms, these church officials choose to fight pornography by other means.

We agree wholeheartedly with these church groups in their forthright stand against the "anti-obscenity" measure.

Censorship and thought control could be far more dangerous than the smut and pornography that they hope to curtail. There are other, better ways to combat smut and pornography effectively.

Does The Nose Know?

Among warm-blooded creatures, except probably the birds, man most likely has the least developed sense of smell. Yet, according to anatomists, he has a far larger olfactory area in his brain than he makes use of.

His sense of smell is highly subjective. What smells wonderful to one person may smell terrible to another. Take cheeses and perfumes, for example.

Some psychologists have suggested that when a person takes an instant like or dislike to a stranger, he is being prompted, unconsciously, by olfactory powers of which he is unaware.

Does the nose know something which it does not tell the intellect? A fascinating mystery.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

No Bickering Among Marin GOP; Pockrus Campaign Cost Him $60

By WAT TAKESHITA

PAUL HAERLE, Marin County chairman for Ronald Reagan, is appointing Charles Michals of Greenbrae as vice chairman for Reagan's November campaign.

The significance of that appointment is that Michals was Marin chairman for George Christopher in the June primary.

Takeshita

In other words, followers of both Christopher and Reagan are closing ranks, and the pre-primary rivalry between the two forces has left little or no scars.

THIS IS JUST what Marin GOP chairman Gerald Misner had been striving for all along and had predicted on the eve of the primary election.

If "Christopher country" like Marin can achieve that kind of unity, Reagan is just about assured statewide solidarity in his November race against Governor Brown.

HOW DO YOU win a primary contest without putting out a single placard, sticker, newspaper advertisement or press release?

That's what James Pockrus did to win the Democratic nomination for the 7th Assembly District (Marin and half of Sonoma). We asked him for the secret of his success and got this answer:

"I campaigned hard two years ago. (He lost to Assemblyman Bill Bagley in 1964) My theory has always been that once you get your name in front of the public, the voters remember you two years later. I had to test that theory."

And so this year, Pockrus said he paid his $60 filing fee, then did not spend a cent more in the campaign.

"If I had campaigned, then I would not have been able to test my theory."

But for the November campaign, Pockrus concedes he will have to campaign actively, because Bagley is far better known than he is.

The "Pockrus theory" appears headed for several more tests in 1968.

PHIL DRATH, San Rafael peace candidate who lost the Democratic Congressional nomination to Tom Storer, is thinking of running a write-in campaign in November as an "independent." He can't hope to win as a "write-in" but would merely be laying the groundwork for another try in 1968.

His followers figure if Drath, an unknown six months ago, can pick up 35,000 votes to Storer's 42,500, then in two years, he will have it made. Since he made a "name" this year, why not capitalize on it in 1968.

THE SAME WITH William Penn Patrick of Tiburon, the cosmetics king. He figures he's made enough of a splash this year, although hopelessly outclassed by Reagan and Christopher as a vote getter, that he can make real headway in 1968.

Robert H. Finch, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, has accepted an offer to debate incumbent Glenn M. Anderson in an hour-long radio broadcast in October.

DON'T FORGET the Marin Republican Council picnic on Angel Island tomorrow. The Angel Island ferry "Gaycin" will leave every half hour from the Dock Restaurant in Tiburon, starting at 10 a.m.

Difference Between Education, Business

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have been reading with considerable interest and no little approbation your series of articles, "The People's Schools." In some instances, however, I believe the conclusions drawn are based upon insufficient information and some special notions.

Exemplifying these notions is the comment commonly made by business executives, "Why cannot the schools be run the way the Standard Oil Co. is operated?" . . . The two systems have entirely different goals. The Standard Oil Company refines oil for profit, while the schools refine brains for the human community. The two processes do not admit of analogy. . . .

Education is an expensive business and a long process which never pays any cash dividends as does Standard Oil stock. One has to find education dividends in abstractions that are not always immediately evident to the cost accountant.

The complaint that "the board had only $769,000 to work with" after salaries are set points up a common problem. There are many of us who do not have much left "to work with" after we pay our monthly fixed charges. This predicament, however, does not induce the food stores in San Rafael to sell me groceries at the lower levels prevailing in other parts of the Bay Area. As for the schools, though, why need there be too much "left over" after the major items of cost have been budgeted?

San Rafael Schools districts have too long used the operating tax funds to finance the building programs. This means every employee on a substandard salary schedule helps to finance the building program.

I cannot believe that you would prefer to continue a system which has led the high schools of San Rafael to become what is essentially a training ground for inexperienced teachers. The Standard Oil Co. does not expect its employees to sign a blank contract in May with the remuneration to be determined by August, as has been a very common practice with the San Rafael city schools.

There is another aspect in which the schools differ from the Standard Oil Co. Standard Oil (and the PG&E, among others) maintains a system of very desirable recreation facilities for its employees. Do not presume that you do not help to support these facilities every time you buy a gallon of gasoline, whether Standard Oil or otherwise—the price is the same. And please do not tell me that I am in any manner free not to buy gasoline in this day of the internal combustion engine.

I know many people share your view before thinking through to objectives. This reorientation of the businessman's outlook is one of the really tough jobs faced by many school superintendents every time there is a new election to the board. When I taught in the orange belt, we had on the board of education the president of a packing house who could never understand the difference between packing oranges and packing brains.

Grand Canyon Visit Stresses Dam Issue

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have just come back from a 312-mile river trip down the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, and before the vividness of that awesome scenery, or the power and wildness of that river fades in my memory, I want to try to communicate what our nation will lose if the government's plan to put two new dams in the Canyon is successful . . .

Thanks to the skill of the boatmen and the buoyancy of the rubber boats, anyone in reasonable health can make these trips; one of the people in our party was 80 years old. Yet this is also one of the few places left untouched where one can appreciate in any direct way the dangers and the bravery of the explorers who opened up this country. As we floated or were dashed down this wild river, with boatmen who knew every turn ahead, we thought often of the Powell party who explored the canyon in 1869, when Indians and mountain men all believed that it was sure death to follow that river through that canyon.

Here some of the foundations of geologic knowledge were discovered, and they are still open to the eye. Here are awesome, almost inhuman vistas, and surprising beauty. We have one of the wonders of the world, and we may drown it to build dams not meant even for water, but for power which can be supplied better and more cheaply through other sources.

The time is gone when our land was so vast and our population so sparse that we could afford to throw up a dam wherever it pleased the bureaucracy to put it . . .

Most of the wonders our party saw and experienced will be drowned if the Marble Canyon and Bridge Canyon dams are built. We can lose an inheritance of wildness, wilderness, and grandeur unparallelled in the world unless every individual who cares writes to his Congressman, Senators and the President.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

THERE'S ONE young Romeo in North Carolina whose wings were sadly clipped the other morning. Two charming young ladies (to whom he had promised marriage practically at the same time) met by accident at a laundromat, and in the course of their conversation, discovered they both were affianced to the same gentleman. Instead of attacking each other, they marched together to the young man's garage, burned said garage and the two cars stored there to the ground, broke every window in his house, and then cheerfully went to the police station and reported what they had done. "He had it coming to him," decided the chief of police—and treated them to lunch.

AN INFANTRY officer whose unit was made up for the most part of draftees from the toughest neighborhood in Chicago had this suggestion for his orderly one evening, "Better look up the preinduction record of Private Kendall, sergeant. I've noticed that every time he fires his pistol on the range, he wipes off the fingerprints.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Walkout Participants Branded Actually Enemies Of Democracy

WASHINGTON — Bear three things in mind about those students and professors who walk out on commencement speakers whose views they don't like:

1. These people are enemies of free speech. They relish it for themselves, resent it for others.

2. They are anti-intellectual because they have closed minds. They want everybody to listen to them, refuse to listen to others. They want to talk to government leaders. They don't want government leaders to be allowed to talk

3. Some of these activists—protesting over Viet Nam — blithely ignore the line between legal and illegal social protest when they violate "peaceful assembly," conduct sit-downs to immobilize a university, and preach draft-card burning.

I AM NOT here arguing the merits of Secretary McNamara's views or of Ambassador Goldberg's, but when teachers and graduates refuse to listen because they disagree, they are insulting the very concept of free speech and free assembly. When some Americans disrespect free speech by those from whom they dissent, they are undermining free speech for everybody.

There may well be inequities in the draft, but when some Americans resort to non-peaceful assembly and law violation, they are turning the precious instrument of social protest into a tool of illegal action which cannot be condoned in a democratic society.

The right of free speech, of peaceful assembly, of social protest should be secure even when U.S. soldiers are dying in Viet Nam. But illegal social protest tramples on the very premises of a free society: willingness to accept majority rule and to act only through legal means to change what we don't like.

IT WOULD BE a mistake to exaggerate the size of these anti-intellectual walk-outs, sit-ins, and draft-card burnings. Even at Berkeley, where the most violent extremists have been active, the number of such students is small. At New York University the other day, when about 18 of the faculty and 112 of the graduating class left the commencement ceremonies at the time Mr. McNamara was presented his degree, at least 2,500 of them gave him a standing ovation.

Obviously this was not an uncritical endorsement of everything the Secretary of Defense has been saying and doing, but it was a reassuring repudiation of those who were showing they cannot abide and respect views other than their own. What a one-way concept of academic freedom that is!

Justice Goldberg equated the anti-free speech walk-out with intolerant extremism. He added these words to his commencement address:

"THIS IS NOT democracy. It is completely destructive of democracy, as we learned during the terrible Nazi period when peaceful and orderly meetings were disrupted and broken up."

It certainly isn't democracy. It is the antithesis of democracy and it heedlessly serves to tear apart its very fabric. The crucial ingredients of the social compact which makes the democratic process work and keeps it secure are these:

Respect for free speech by others as well as ourselves.

Obedience to laws we disapprove of until we can bring about their change by legal and peaceful means.

ACCEPTANCE by the minority of majority rule.

We should protect the right of every social protest within the law, but let us be clear that these anti-free speech, anti-intellectual, sometimes illegal protesters are not friends of democracy.

Viet War Cost Soars To $24 Billion A Year

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — In setting guidelines for next year's $100 billion-plus budget, President Johnson has come up squarely against his most pressing fiscal problem—the steadily soaring cost of the Viet Nam war.

The Budget Bureau is estimating that these skyrocketing expenditures now total around $2 billion a month—some $24 billion a year—and could go higher if North Viet Nam's long-expected rainy season offensive materializes.

WHILE administration officials have carefully avoided spelling out this astronomical spending estimate in public, foreign aid administrator David Bell did cite the $2 billion figure at a private meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He did this in the course of pleading with the committee to approve the President's new $3.38 billion foreign aid budget.

Bell referred to the expenditure of $2 billion a month in Viet Nam to illustrate that the U.S. is now spending more in two months fighting there than the administration is asking for the foreign aid program for a whole year.

The highest Viet Nam war spending estimate previously given Congress was $15 billion a year to the Senate Armed Services Preparedness Subcommittee by the Defense Department in April.

BECAUSE of these conflicting estimates, Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., member of both committees, has asked the subcommittee staff to obtain more cost information.

Symington, who generally has supported the President's Viet Nam policy, is now taking the position that the time has come to either go all-out in fighting there are get out.

Sen. Richard Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, has long advocated such a course.

The two warned that the commitment of 400,000 troops in Viet Nam for any length of time would leave the U.S. "dangerously over-extended and exposed to new Communist pressure and aggression in other areas."

THEY ALSO pointed out that Air Force authorities, testifying before the Armed Services Committee, had reported that planes were being shot down in Viet Nam faster than present production rates.

Under the limited war conditions imposed by the President, Russell and Symington held, it is to the advantage of Red China and Russia to keep the Viet Nam conflict going indefinitely as it doesn't matter to them how many North Vietnamese are killed.

The Persident replied that he partially agreed with that but didn't want to escalate the war to the point where China might intervene.

THE AIR FORCE is testing its most modern reconnaissance plane in Viet Nam to spot enemy troop concentrations and Russian ground-to-air missiles. That's what Brigadier Gen. Andrew Evans Jr., director of Air Force Research and Development, told the House Armed Services Committee. He stated, "The RF-4C with forward and side looking radar, infrared, low and high altitude panoramic cameras, and a night illumination system is now being tested in Viet Nam."

To speed up the processing of the RF-4C's photographs, the Air Force has sent two mobile laboratories to Viet Nam. They are wheeled alongside the aircraft, and through a process similar to that used in commercial cameras, the film is developed for immediate use. . . .

Southern Marin Not Same Now —The Bus Strike Changes Things

No buses?

In Sausalito, there are buses. Buses people never heard of before. According to Ruby Cullinan who runs the Cozy Cafe on the square, they come in different colors bearing tourists and are called "M and MS," "The East Shore," "The South Shore" "Trailways and A. C. Transit."

Ruby, a rebel who always has quick retorts for bus passengers who wait for buses near her cafe and come in to ask for change and information, says the strike is "wonderful. Nobody asks me for change or information."

SHE EXPLAINED that many people going to San Francisco get rides by simply standing at bus stops. People driving know they are looking for a ride and pick them up.

The Amiable maitre d' of the 10-stool establishment admitted that older people are affected by the Greyhound strike, "particularly old people who couldn't drive if they wanted to."

She said Gray Line, which usually brings tourists to Sausalito, went on strike two days before Greyhound.

"We feel it (the strike)," commented Herb Beckman of the Tides Bookstore.

IN THE HEAVY commuters town of Mill Valley the bus depot remains open to sell bus tours, tickets for ball games, special events and books and magazines. Business is slow, however.

Retired people have it bad, according to Maggie Grant. One woman called Greyhound and said her doctor was in San Rafael. "How can I get there?" She decided to call a local doctor.

Doug Dwyer of Mill Valley Auto Radiator says the strike has meant inconvenience for him since he usually gets parts by Greyhound.

A Yellow cabbie reports he knows one Greyhound bus driver who is now a cabbie, one who is a station attendant at Gulf Oil and one selling shoes door to door. "Taxi business is way off," the taxi man said.

ANOTHER FIELD affected is that of the maids, he added. He said one group of maids rents quarters at the Fireside Motel, then comes to work in Mill Valley using one maid's car. Many live as far away as Richmond and Vallejo.

McKie Donnan, president of the Mill Valley Commuters' club, says that the strike has affected him personally in loss of flexibility and in distraction of heavy traffic congestion, especially on homebound trips. He estimates there are about 1,200 bus commuters in Mill Valley.

"EVERYBODY has fended pretty well for themselves," Donnan related. He himself, who once had "store to door delivery" by the bus, rides with another commuter. "It's a thing you wouldn't want to see go for very long," Donnan said.

Two Marin City men—Frank Johnson, 26, and Edward Green, 21—entered politics for the first time in the recent June 7 primary campaign. Their candidate: Dr. Carleton B. Goodlett, who ran for democratic nomination for Governor.

THEY HAD dinner with Goodlett following his talk at College of Marin, then decided to campaign for him. "We went door to door and store to store," said Green. Unable to find an office, they used the trunk of Johnson's car to carry literature. "In other words, our headquarters," said Johnson.

The politicos also were instrumental in getting Goodlett to speak in Marin City and first got permission for him to use the church headed by Rev. J. P. Henry. In addition to campaigning at home, they worked in East Oakland and Green worked in Los Angeles.

"This work makes you feel you have a say so in what's going on," said Green.

COUNTY COMMENT

'Something Is Wrong Somewhere' In North End Of Civic Center?

FUSSELMAN

"Something is Wrong Somewhere." So says the administrator—and that "property taxation is reaching a prohibitive level." Now isn't that news? You are paying out $135,603 plus for this choice information. You see that is the amount budgeted for the three departments directly under him. His personal take is $21,000. Now, for this year, he is asking $171,873 for the same departments. Just compare this with $94,125 for the year ending June 30, 1964.

In this column last year, I showed that since 1956-57 the administrator's office has cost $784,352.95. I asked you then that if, after looking at your tax bills, you thought you were getting your money's worth with this operation — was it saving you money? Add the $135,603 for this year, just ending, the amount will be $919,955 and if he is granted the $171,873 requested for next year the total will be $1,091,828. How about that?

THE BUDGET, which the supervisors have control over, was $25,162,970 for this past year—an increase of $3,502,813 over the previous year. However, this is estimated to be increased, by June 30 to $30,250,884. Some increase since 1963-64 when it was $14,553,703. It has more than doubled.

Here is a repeat from this column of March 25. It bears on the situation confronting us today.—"Marin is a general law county operating under State Law. Until the people vote to change this type of government, this provision should not be circumvented. This general law provides that there shall be five supervisors to conduct the business of the county, together with the elected department heads—The power and strength is intended to be in the board."

THE MAJORITY of the board is, in effect, ignoring these provisions. They are permitting the administrator to elbow in on fields that he simply has not had the training to even advise. They abdicate their responsibilities for which the board as a whole is paid $48,000. Early last week it seemed that they were getting a message from the electorate. I wonder if they decoded it.

This one man power structure—this "strongest man in county government" is demonstrating daily that the "Something (which) is Wrong Somewhere" is nowhere else but in the several offices and meeting room in the north end of the administration building at the Civic Center—just nowhere else.

On page 20 of the I-J for Wednesday this: "Bruce gave the board a list of capital projects need in the next five years. These total $19.2 million with $13.9 million of that needed for roads." Then there is the airport financing to be taken care of.

DO YOU recall the coy statements that the $4.3 million parks and open space bond issue would only cost 4.5 cents per hundred on your tax bill? Did you hear anything about this $19.2 million which was to be raised? I didn't. But, then, I wear a hearing aid so maybe I missed it.

ART BUCHWALD

Here's A List Of Goodies For Demon Campaign Money Donators

WASHINGTON — The White House has strongly denied it, but it has been rumored that if you contribute $10,000 to the Democratic party for the upcoming Congressional elections, you will be assured of a gilt-edged invitation to a formal White House party attended by the President and Mrs. Johnson.

For $10,000, a contributor is made a member of the "Elite President's Club" as opposed to the ordinary "President's Club" which caters to the run-of-the-mill $1,000 contributors. It is believed that there are at least 100 members of the Elite President's Club already signed up, with many more holding the checkbooks in the the wings.

I'M FOR anything that puts funds into the Democratic party coffers, and I've been giving great thought as to how more money could be raised. Using the guaranteed invitation to the White House as starting point, I have made up a rate card for different things a loyal Democratic party giver would be entitled to if he were willing to put up the contributions.

For example, if a person was willing to give $15,000, he would not only be invited to the White House for dinner, but his wife would be guaranteed a dance with Press Secretary Bill Moyers.

For $20,000 the contributor would get to sit at the same table as Vice-President Hubert Humphrey, and for $25,000 the Vice-President would agree not to talk.

For $30,000 the person would not only have dinner at the White House, but he would be permitted to attend a Cabinet meeting.

IF YOU coughed up $35,000, you could ask a question at a televised Presidential press conference.

Anyone who gave $40,000 could go to a movie with Lynda Bird and George Hamilton. For $45,000 you would be guaranteed a seat in the church at Luci's wedding.

A $50,000 contributor would be given his choice of a weekend at Camp David with the Johnsons or a week at the LBJ ranch. For $55,000 he wouldn't have to ride a horse.

The $60,000 fat cat would be allowed to sign a Congressional bill at a White House Garden ceremony, and for $75,000 he could be present when the President was chewing out Sen. Fulbright.

THERE WILL be very few people contributing $100,000 or more, but some provision must be made for them.

For $100,000 you could get to swear in a United States Supreme Court Justice.

For $150,000 you would be permitted to alert all SAC bombers, and for $200,000 you could call out the National Guard and reserves.

If anyone wanted to give $250,000 he would be guaranteed that Mrs. Johnson would plant a rose garden in his back yard.

For $275,000, you would have the option of settling a steel strike or holding a conference in Washington with either Madame Gandhi or King Feisal.

For $300,000 you can run for Congress yourself.

UNFORTUNATELY, the Republicans, being out of office, have nothing to compete with the Democrats when it comes to raising money. All they could offer a $10,000 contributor would be either a chance to attend a Richard Nixon press conference or to take a ride through Death Valley with Ronald Reagan.

Inevitability Of Correct Play Adds To Pleasure Of The Game

In some dramas you know what the actors are going to do before the action takes place, and the inevitability adds to the impact.

This sort of drama was staged often during the bridge world championships last month.

Opening lead — ♡ 8

An audience of 500 bridge enthusiasts watched each bid and play on a huge board.

When this hand was played we sat back and waited for the opening lead.

Lew Mathe held the West cards, and we could feel sure he would find the one lead to give declarer trouble.

KILLING LEAD

Mathe thought it over and picked out the killing lead — the singleton heart.

Walter Avarelli, playing the North-South cards for Italy, took the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts and returned the jack of spades as though leading for a finesse.

Bob Hamman, East, was not deceived.

He stepped up with the ace of spades and returned a heart for his partner to ruff.

Not any old heart, mind you, but the queen of hearts.

GETS MESSAGE

Mathe got the message. East led his highest heart to show that his entry was in the higher of the two side suits—diamonds.

East would have led his lowest heart if his entry had been in clubs.

Mathe thought it over to check his reasoning and then underled the ace of diamonds, relying on his partner to turn up with the king.

Nothing went wrong. Hamman produced the king of diamonds and returned another heart, allowing Mathe to take the setting trick with his last trump.

It was a pleasure to watch bridge of this quality, knowing that each player would make his best move at each turn.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your left, bids one diamond, and your partner doubles.

The next player passes.

You hold:

♠ K Q 6 5 2
♥ 7 4 3 2
♦ 3 2
♣ A 8.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

The jump response to partner's take-out double is highly invitational but not forcing.

If partner has a minimum hand for a takeout double you will not be sorry to hear him pass.

If he has sound values you want to go on to game.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, June 17, the 168th day of 1966 with 197 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning stars are Venus and Saturn; the evening star is Mercury.

Russian composer Igor Stravinsky was born on this day in 1882.

On this day in history:

In 1775, 3,500 British soldiers attacked 1,000 American patriots on Bunker Hill, actually Breed's Hill, across the Charles River from Boston. The British lost more than 1,000 men; the Americans, 441.

In 1928, Amelia Earhart became the first woman to fly across the Atlantic. The plane was piloted by Wilmer Stultz.

In 1953, residents of the Russian-occupied zone of Berlin staged mass anti-Communist riots protesting the working and living conditions imposed by the Soviets.

In 1954, Rocky Marciano retained the world heavyweight boxing title in a decision over Ezzard Charles.

A thought for the day — British philosopher John Locke: "The end of law is not to abolish or restrain, but to preserve and enlarge freedom."

Dairymen Say Milk Prices Must Go Up

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Milk prices must be raised to keep dairymen from going out of business and threatening the state's milk supply, dairy representatives said today.

Testifying before a California Bureau of Milk Stabilization hearing on a milk-price increase, Harold G. Claudius manager of Consolidated Milk Producers of San Francisco said low prices are driving milk producers out of business.

Al Pollard, an official of two trade organizations with a combined membership of 900 dairies, said the dairy herds are at their lowest level in this country since 1900.

Even if the one-cent boost being considered is passed now, Pollard said, it would take over two years for the diminishing herd trend to be reversed. It takes that long to raise a calf to milk-producing age.

Paul L. Andrews, San Francisco regional administrator for the stabilization bureau, said a decision on the boost will be made next week. If it is approved, it would be passed on to the consumer Aug. 1.

Dairymen said the last increase was half a cent in 1959.

Rancher Files Complaint Of Trespassing

Tennessee Valley rancher George Giannecchini had trespassers on his land again last night. Earlier this week, the unwanted guests turned out to be two prime suspects in a murder and armed-robbery hunt.

Last night, the trespassers were seven long-haired, leather-sandled "beatniks" out for a midnight weener-roast.

The rancher signed a complaint against them for trespassing and immediately presented a small problem of Marin County sheriff's deputies.

They had trouble telling the men from the women under the long hair but the group was sorted out before they were booked into Marin County Jail.

Due to appear in Marin Municipal Court later this afternoon were Alfred G. Frinsell, 18, of 34 Filbert Avenue, Sausalito, John R. McCarthy, 19, Daniel E. Mount, 19, Gerald E. Mitchell, 22, Judith A. Samuelson, 22, all of San Francisco and Carlton L. Brittain, 23, of San Diego.

Luci Fiance Takes Consulting Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pat Nugent, 22, fiance of President Johnson's daughter, Luci, has taken another job as a member of a new Washington higher education consulting firm.

The firm, Leo S. Tonkin Associates, is being launched by his former boss, Leo Tonkin, who was executive director of the District of Columbia Commissioners' Advisory Council on higher education.

Tonkin said today he and Pat, who had been his $5,181 administrative assistant on the council, had turned in their resignations effective June 4

Raborn Willing To Tell Information On CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of the Central Intelligence Agency is not ducking a looming Senate battle over supervision of the spy agency.

William F. Raborn, it was learned today, has informed the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he was willing to give it "substantive intelligence information" — but would not disclose "sources and methods."

And that, he said in a letter Wednesday to Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., was the only kind of question the committee asked that he refused to answer at a February briefing that helped trigger the clash over who supervises cloak and dagger activities.

The exchange of letters between Raborn and Fulbright was interpreted as probably killing the last chance for a compromise that would avert a floor fight on the touchy issue.

Fulbright's group has argued that because of its jurisdiction over foreign relations it should have some role in overseeing activities of the intelligence agency.

He and some committee members were disturbed when Raborn acknowledged in the February briefing that he did not feel he could give them as detailed information as he gives the Senate's Executive CIA Watchdog subcommittee.

That committee, headed by Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Armed Services Committee, opposes a resolution approved by Fulbright's group to add three of its members to Russell's seven-man panel.

Quentin Felon Stabbed Twice 'Superficially'

Lloyd D. Watroba, 31, serving time in San Quentin prison under sentence from Monterey and Marin Counties, was placed in segregation last night after receiving two superficial puncture wounds in the upper chest.

Prison officials said Watroba was in the South Block waiting to go to dinner when he sustained the injuries. They are investigating the possibility that Watroba was attacked by another prisoner, and also the possibility that he inflicted the wounds himself in an effort to manipulate a transfer to another prison.

Watroba, a native of Michigan, was convicted in 1963 in Monterey County for bad checks and sentenced to a term of six months to 14 years. This was just a few months after he came to California. He was convicted in Marin County last year for possession of a weapon by a prisoner and sentenced to a term of five years to life.

Coast Guard Search Fails To Find Body

The Coast Guard conducted a fruitless search this morning for the body of a San Francisco man who is believed to have jumped from the Golden Gate Bridge.

A car belonging to Steven J. Hadell was found with the motor running at 3:40 a.m. today parked at the west rail by a passing motorists, the California Highway Patrol reported. Two keys and a detailed note were found in the front seat.

An empty box that had contained a skin diver's weight belt was found in the rear seat.

The note asked San Francisco police not to give out the man's name because of his two teenage sons. He said that he had left word "through their mother" that he had left the country.

The note listed the names of his executors with instructions to take the car to his 2190 Bay Street address. The note gave no reason for the suicide, the Highway Patrol reported.

Fishermen's Wives Oppose Russians

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A delegation of 20 fishermen's wives from Seattle today urged California officials to act to prevent Russian trawlers from depleting the West Coast's ocean resources.

Mrs. Peter Mosness of Seattle, spokesman for the National Fishermen and Wives, Inc., urged State Resources Administrator Hugo Fisher and Walter Shannon, fish and game director, to back their proposal for a 200-mile offshore conservation zone.

Mrs. Mosness said her group, which represents commercial fishing interests, also has urged President Johnson to back up a 1958 Geneva Conference agreement that foreign fishing vessels must respect the offshore conservation practices of other nations.

Teaching Credential Called 'Bureaucratic Boondoggle'

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An Assemblyman took exception today to the State Department of Education's newest teaching credential, titled:

"The Standard Designated Services Credential With A Specialization In Pupil Services As A Mobility Instructor For The Visually Handicapped."

"That title alone," said Leo. J. Ryan, D, South San Francisco, "is enough to brand it as a bureaucratic boondoggle of the first order."

He also said the credential required a master's degree in "mobility and orientation," a course he claimed doesn't exist.

Ryan further criticized the credential's requirement that teachers of the blind must have perfectly correctable vision — that is, 20-20 vision with the use of glasses.

Ryan said a person blind in one eye "may very well be the perfect individual to work at teaching the totally blind how to adapt themselves," and concluded:

"The Department of Education seems to exist in a scholastic vacuum . . ."

HEART FACTORS

Drugs Can Control High Blood Pressure

(Fifth in a series of articles dealing with risk factors in Heart Disease, provided by the Marin County Heart Assn., as a public education service.)

Like the weather, everybody talks about high blood pressure.

Unlike the weather, somebody is doing something about this wide-spread and mysterious disease.

The modern physician is armed with an extensive and effective variety of drugs which can control high blood pressure — apparently for an indefinite period.

But not that word control. There is—except in a few special types—no known cure for hypertension (the scientific name for elevated blood pressure).

The exceptions, where surgical cures are usually possible, are those in which tumors or constricted blood vessels are involved. These causes are variously estimated to account for between 5 and 10 per cent of all cases of hypertension.

But, with those exceptions, no one knows what causes high blood pressure, and it seems likely that cure and prevention must await the outcome of research that is going on in laboratories all over the world.

BUT IF THE CAUSE of high blood pressure remains a mystery, there is no secret about its mechanism, and anyone who has used a garden hose can understand it.

Turn on the water into a hose without a nozzle and it will gush out the open end in a thick, aimless stream, which is fine for soaking a flower bed but will never reach to the far side of the lawn.

Screw a nozzle onto the hose, twist it down so the opening is only a fraction of the diameter of the hose and a solid forceful jet of water will arc across the garden. The volume of water has not been increased; only its pressure has been stepped up.

Much the same situation can occur in the human body. With each beat of the heart, freshly oxygenated blood is pushed out into the aorta, the big central artery.

From the aorta the blood flows into branching arteries all over the body, from these into still smaller arteries, and finally into microscopic channels called arterioles, which supply the cells with the fuel and oxygen they burn in their tiny metabolic fires.

IT IS HERE IN the arterioles that hypertension apparently originates. For reasons that largely remain mysterious, these tiny vessels become constricted or narrowed (just as the hose nozzle narrows the stream of water).

With the arterioles narrowed, the pressured in the arteries behind them builds up. But here the analogy with the hose must end, for in the body's blood system there is no way for the fluid to jet out full force and relieve the pressure.

In the body's closed circuit there is no relief. The heart has to pump all the harder to force the same amount of blood through the narrowed arterioles.

After long periods the heart may respond to this additional burden by becoming enlarged and weakened, unable sometimes to perform its basic job.

In addition, arteries all through the body may become damaged and weak, as a result of having to withstand over the years the more than normal pressure.

This is hypertension. With it may come headaches, dizziness, fatigue and sometimes death. (Over 75,000 Americans died of high blood pressure or its complications in 1962.)

While the cause or causes of the disease still remain unknown, there are a number of very suggestive clues, which point the way not only to the direction research should take, but to measures of control.

HYPERTENSION, FOR INSTANCE, often runs in families and hence, quite probably has a genetic basis. Consequently, it behooves the relatives of known hypertensives to have themselves checked frequently by their physicians.

There is apparently a relationship between emotions and hypertension; many people respond to emotional stress with a sharp blood pressure rise. Victims are advised to avoid tension.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Cheating Can't Be Made Honest By Double Dealing With Mother

DEAR HELEN:

I was with my mother at a store when the cashier gave her too much change — she handed him a five dollar bill and he gave her change for a 10, and she took it quick and walked out.

The next day she gave me two dollars to buy some groceries for her, and she didn't ask for the change back, so I kept it. When she remembered, she bawled the heck out of me for "cheating."

Some nerve, huh? DWANE

DEAR DWANE:

Yup, some nerve . . . But no excuse. That old comeback "You did it, so why can't I?" doesn't make cheating any more honest — and you know it. H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a guy who just graduated from high school, and my parents don't even like to hear me speak of girls, so I don't but I still think about them.

I am not allowed to date, and I can't even go out on Sunday afternoons without being told to go to a friend's house and stay there, then being asked what we did while I was there. After a hard day's work, I can't even go down town on Saturday nights.. Naturally I can't drive the car.

I can't enjoy one thing for fear of being followed. I don't want to get in trouble, and I try to do my best, but I would sure like to be treated like I was more than 10 years old. Please help. S. L.

DEAR S.:

I'd say this is unbelievable, except that I've had too many letters similar to yours.

Nothing will solve your problem faster than the draft. The Army may not be the easiest way to cut apron strings, but it's the most effective! H.

DEAR HELEN:

Here's another suggestion for United States pen pals. Write to the League of Friendship, Mount Vernon, Ohio, state your preference in localities, your age, etc., and send 25 cents for a membership fee. Good luck! LYNN

DEAR HELEN:

I'd sure like to meet JILL who sticks up for the stuttering boy because he needs a friend. She is the kind of a girl I'd like to know. Got her address and phone number handy?

ANOTHER JACK

DEAR HELEN:

Jill won't lose friends because she is nice to a boy who needs someone to encourage him. The guys should be standing in line waiting for a date with her! I would, if I just knew how to get in touch with her. She's got all my respect and admiration, and I don't even know her.

HOPEFUL

DEAR FELLOWS:

Sorry, I can't oglige by sending you Jill's address, but I know she'll be pleased to learn you want it. Proves what I told her: Right guys recognize a right girl — even from a distance. H.

DEAR HELEN:

I think "MAD" is a silly kid who doesn't know a good thing when she sees it. I am an eighth grader and I think Modern Math it the greatest. She doesn't know how lucky we are: for once we can show up our parents. My Dad is a college graduate and I know more about math than he does.

MARIN FILM FARE

'Nevada Smith' Offers Strange Tale Of Brutal Killing, Revenge

By LEE DARD

Marin area moviegoers have plenty to look forward to this fine weekend. Let's take a quick look:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

A raw and cunningly realistic study of revenge is now on screen: "Nevada Smith."

The title character, played by Steve McQueen, resembles one in Harold Robbins' best-seller, "The Carpetbaggers." He is a young man, son of an Indian mother and white father who returns home one day to find his parents brutally murdered by white ruffians.

He resolves to avenge the slayings in his own primitive fashion. After killing two of the men, he sickens of the hate and bloodshed.

McQueen is strong and convincing in the title role, as are Karl Malden, Arthur Kennedy and Martin Landau — the three killers. Also contributing to a large and competent cast are Brian Keith, Raf Vallone, Pat Hingle, Howard Da Silva and Paul Fix.

RAFAEL THEATER

Elvis Presley's flock of fans won't want to pass over his latest, and one of his best: "Frankie and Johnny," this new rendering of the old blues classic features a happy ending for all involved.

It's enjoyable escapism, and serves as a picturesque setting for a dozen or so of Presley's songs.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Here is "The Flight of the Phoenix"—where a familiar beginning evolves into a highly original survival drama.

An air bus carrying oil firm employees crashes in the Sahara. Two men die from the impact and the others are left to fight it out with the hostile desert.

The ingenious survivors salvage the workable parts from the ruined plane and create a smaller, hopefully flyable vehicle. This unlikely craft is the Phoenix of the title, and as it nears completion, suspense builds accordingly.

James Stewart, Richard Attenborough, Hardy Kruger, Ernest Borgnine and Ian Bannen star.

Co-featured is "The Reward" —some more intriguing drama.

LARK THEATER

Showing here is the Film Festival entry from Japan, "Tokyo Olympiad," a monument to the skill of Japanese director Kon Itchikawa and his crew of 164 cameramen.

The concentration here is on the human angle. Particularly notable are scenes of the Russian shot-putters, the grace of the gymnasts, the beauty of the swimming contests, and the grueling endurance of the races.

An interest in sports isn't necessary for this film. The struggles of men and women in intense competition are infinitely fascinating for all.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Now playing is the flashy film version of Mary McCarthy's best-seller, "The Group," handled expertly by director Sidney Lumet and performed ably by a talented cast. It concerns eight Vassar girls (class of 1933) who graduate with big hopes for the future and then find out they've got a whole lot more learning to do.

Outstanding among the performers are Candice Bergman as Lakey, the lesbian, and Jessica Walter as Libby, the literary snob. Also featured are Joanna Petit, Elizabeth Hartman, Larry Hagman, Shirley Knight, Richard Mulligan and Carrie Nye.

A show for adults.

MOTOR MOVIES

Now on the screen is "The Chase," with Marlon Brando, Robert Redford, Jane Fonda, E. G. Marshall, James Fix and Martha Hyer.

The story is set in the South. An escaped convict — wrongly convicted — comes back to his home town. The principal focus is on the reaction of the townspeople — who all seem to be hooligans, eccentrics or brutes—to this unwanted element.

Marlon Brando plays the sheriff, responsible for apprehending the fugitive.

The climax comes in an auto graveyard, where all the people merge in a final gory act of celebration by setting the place afire in a wild orgy of mob brutality.

Co-featured is "Heroes of Telemark," an excellent war drama comparable to "The Guns of Navarone."

NORTHGATE AND NOVATO THEATERS

"A Thousand Clowns" is held over at the Northgate and coming in Sunday at the Novato.

Jason Robards stars as a TV gag writer who quits work to search for individuality in our conformist society. He takes along a gifted 12-year-old boy—his sister's illegitimate son.

All seems beautifully irritional until a pair of social workers drop by to check on the child. Robards is warned that he must either conform (get a job) or the boy will be taken to a more "normal" home.

Despite the meaningful overtones, the viewer is never in doubt that this is a comedy—with its own special breed of humor.

Barbara Harris and Martin Balsam co-star.

FAIRFAX THEATER

A 1906 grudge race—by car—from New York to Paris via the Bering Strait sets the scene for uproaring comedy in "The Great Race."

Tony Curtis is the pure lad, his despicable opponent is Jack Lemmon.

A very funny show.

101 DRIVE-IN

The mad antics of pioneering powered flight are brought hilariously back to life in "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines."

The setting is an air race, circa 1910, from London to Paris.

The talented cast includes Stuart Whitman, Jean-Pierre Cassel, Sarah Miles, James Fox, Terry-Thomas and Gert Frobe.

Off-Broadway Burlesque To Open Run In San Rafael

A burlesque-melodrama, "Around the World in 80 Cliches," will begin an eight-week run July 15 at the Belrose Theater in San Rafael.

The play — to be performed Friday and Saturday evenings at the theater at 1415 Fifth Avenue—was written by Alan Newman and Ross Frossberg, with additional dialogue by Patti Newman, who will play the role of Fanny Foundling.

Leonard Jared will direct a cast that includes Ralph Bernheimer as the villian; Stanley Rice as the hero, Chauncy Oglethorpe; Phyllis Green as Aunt Penelope, and Mary Diederich as San Francisco Lil.

Others in the cast will be Pat Rice, Mona Horwitz, Steve Brown, Joe Felious, Dale Beck, Lou Mason, Claude Montoya and Patricia Sims.

All are members of the recently formed Marin company called the "Way Off Broadway Players."

Inverness Music Program Slated

Afternoon and evening performances are planned for the Inverness Music Festival July 30 and 31 at St. Columba's Church in Inverness.

On July 30 at 3 p.m. Reba Mason, contralto and Fae McNally, pianist will perform, and Darrell Parker will direct Brahm's "Alto Rhapsody" chorus. At 8 p.m. Donald Stone, baritone, will perform Robert Schumann's "Dichterliebe," and Nancy L. Bennett and Fae McNally will perform on the harpsichord.

On July 31 at 3 p.m., Robert Stommel will direct Haydn's "Creation." At 8 p.m., Bach's "Musical Offering" will be directed by Darrel Parker.

Hobbyist Gets Bid To Exhibit

San Rafael carpenter William Clemmer of 2 Brookdale Avenue has been invited to show his unusual coffee table, featuring a waterfall with running water, at the 1966 Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver, B. C.

Clemmer said he will accept the invitation of officials of the 22nd annual International Craft and Hobby Show, to be held Aug. 20-25 in conjunction with western Canada's biggest fair.

Pacific National Exhibition officials wrote Clemmer their attention was called to his coffee table by a recent feature article in the Independent-Journal's Marin Magazine.

Terra Linda Teeners In Bands Competition

The "Axons," a Terra Linda teen band, will compete with 12 Bay Area rock 'n' roll bands Sunday at 8 p.m. at California Hall on Polk Street in San Francisco.

Band members are Glenn Kabanuck, bass, Dianne Herrera, drummer, Ken Dukes, rhythm guitar, Dan Herrara, lead guitar, and Jeff Heintz, lead singer.

Big Sur Field Trip Has Touch Of Trouble

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Big Sur meant a touc hof trouble for a group of Marin County people on a four-day biology-camping trip which ended yesterday.

In a set of puzzling circumstances, group counsellor Richard Sloan of the county's Family Rehabilitation Center, a teacher and three youngsters from the center, found themselves blocked Tuesday in their car on a narrow cliff road by a Sausalito rancher.

The "long halt" lasted more than four hours.

Harold Tracy of Sausalito, who leases the Limekiln Creek Camp and ranch, blocked the county car with his Volkswagen bus, telling a Monterey County sheriff's deputy he thought the outlanders were "spies."

SECOND TRIP

James B. Soetaert, director of field services of the Marin County Probation Department, said the trip was "perfectly legitimate." It is the second such trip by the center to Big Sur.

It was made by the center in conjunction with a school program and the youngsters, aged 17 and 18, were studying biology and plant life.

Monterey Deputy Sheriff John L. Crisan Jr. said the "block off" occurred on private property and is a civil matter, not criminal. Crisan said he told Tracy that, since he detained the party for such a length of time, he may be liable to a law suit but Soetaert said today the Marin County Probation Department does not intend to bring suit.

Crisan explained the happening this way:

On patrol along the Big Sur coast, he was called to Tracy's ranch by the sheriff's department. Since he covers a vast area, he said, it took him more than an hour to get there.

ONLY EXIT

"I found Tracy's bus blocking the only exit road, a narrow road on the side of a cliff," said the deputy. "The probation people were on the other side of the bus."

Tracy, Crisan reported, said he blocked the car in because Sloan refused to sign a paper saying his business at the Limekiln Creek Camp was for recreational purposes.

Tracy told Crisan that he leases the 660 acres from the Cowell Foundation and is now in a legal battle with the county and state regarding proposed condemnation of portions of the land for public use.

Tracy told Crisan he knows the state sends people to private camp ground to determine if there are violations, such as fire hazards, then they report back. On this basis they can condemn the land. When Tracy saw the Marin car he thought they might be spies, Crisan related.

Crisan explained that Mrs. Barbara Ward, Loma Alta School teacher at the Marin Center, hiked five miles to a telephone to call the Marin County counsel's office and relate the predicament. She was requested to call the local sheriff's department which she did. Also in the car were two boys and one girl.

Crisan said he asked Tracy if he would release the Marinites if he (Crisan) was a witness to say they were there for recreation purposes. Tracy agreed and unblocked the road. On leaving the biology group offered Tracy $1, the regular admittance fee, for the use of the land but Tracy refused, said the deputy.

The Marin County party was blocked in from 10 a.m. to 2:15 p.m., according to Crisan.

Explaining Sloan's actions, Soetaert said the field trip was made to Pfeiffer State Park, 30 miles north of the Tracy ranch, in two county cars. In all there were seven youngsters, two teachers and two men from the center staff from Lucas Valley. The center, which has 15 boys and 15 girls,are wards of the court and mostly from broken homes.

While part of the group remained at Pfeiffer, the other members took a side trip to Limekiln. Soetaert explained that Sloan did not see a sign marked "private" on entering the property.

When asked to sign the paper by Tracy, he refused because he felt it was a personal thing and wasn't necessary, Soetaert said. Sloan explained the purpose of the visit—for study—and identified himself as being from the probation department.

Tracy said he questioned as a Marin taxpayer whether school money "is going for joy rides down the coast."

He said he personally complained of the visit to the probation department Wednesday.

Tracy said he told the probation department, "We in Big Sur do not want the beatnik element in and don't want probation officers to bring them in and introduce them to Big Sur."

LSD Booster Sees Increase In Drug Use

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The nation's most outspoken defender of the virtues of LSD has called on the government to get ready for a boom in the use of the hallucinatory drug.

Dr. Timothy Leary, a former Harvard professor, said yesterday that two million doses will be introduced into California alone this month.

He said millions of persons will soon be using LSD "on their own," something of which Leary is critical.

Leary, who says he has gone on 311 LSD "trips" himself, told a conference on psycyede lic drugs that "the best students in the best universities" are the leading users of LSD. He said highest consumption per capita was at Harvad.

The way to lessen the potential dangers of LSD, he suggested, is to evolve some governmental system of licensing persons who wish to take it in their homes.

He added that stories of LSD-induced suicides and mental breakdowns had been "tremendously exaggerated." He is said the risk is no greater than some other common activities.

Column Poetry Was Student's

A bit of descriptive poetry incorrectly attributed to Darcy Corman in the I-J Reporter's Notebook column in Thursday's Independent-Journal was actually written by Brookside School student John Brentlinger.

The column quoted from the school's student literary magazine, the Acorn, and the piece in question was an 18-syllable picture of school days: "Lunch/ Paper thrown around/The peanut butter and jam/Sticking to your mouth."

Book Award

Jonathan M. Rayden, a junior at Redwood High School, received the Harvard University book award for excellence in scholarship and achievement in other fields. His name was inadvertantly omitted from the award list in Monday's Independent-Journal.

Loggers Blamed In Redwood Loss

CRESCENT CITY (UPI)— In two or three years there won't be any redwood groves left in Northern California worth being preserved in anational park, a U.S. Senate subcommittee was warned today.

Logging operators are deliberately cutting into groves of the giant trees marked for possible preservation , Rep. Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif., said in testimony prepared for parks and recreation subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

The committee today began two days of hearings on a possible redwoods national park.

"Our nation's opportunity for a great and worthy redwood national park is rapidly slipping away," Cohelan said. "I would urge hhat we no risk posing this opportunity by fefault."

Cohelan was supported in other prepared testimony by representatives of conservation groups.

President Ralph W. Chaney of the SaveThe Redwoods League called on the Rellim Redwood Co. to stop cutting within the boundaries of the proposed park.

"Serious inroads have been made by lumbering operations during the past year," Dr. Chaney said. "If continued it will seriously impair the park project."

However, Gary Evans, a vice president of Georgia - Pacific Corp., warned that approval of the larger of two proposed park plans would force his company out of business in the region.

The smaller one, he added, would hamper the firm's pulp mill operations by reducing its supply of wood chips.

Evans said that less than 7 per cent of the potetnial picnic and camp sites in existing state parks have been developed so far.

Georgei - Pacific employes about 1,500 men in Northern California, with an annual payroll of $8 million.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nevl, was scheduled to hear about 60 witness in two days.

Three Teenagers Dead In Crash

NIPOMO (UPI)— Three teenagers were killed Thursday when their speeding car went out of control on U.S. 101, sailed approximately 90 feet through the air and smashed into a large tree.

The wreckage of the car was wrapped around the tree, located about one mile north of the Nipomo overpass, the Highway Patrol said.

Dead were Scott Kuster, 17, the car's owner and believed to be its driver; Timothy Thompson, 19; and Joseph Davis, 19, all of Santa Maria.

Michals Joins Marin Staff For Reagan

Charles Michals of Greenbrae, who was executive director of the Christopher for Governor campaign in Marin, has been named vice chairman of the Marin County Reagan for Governor Committee.

The appointment was announced by Paul R. Haerle, Marin County chairman for Ronald Reagan. Said Haerle:

"It is a privilege for me to welcome Chuck Michals to the Marin Reagan committee. He will provide additional leadership for a united organization dedicated to bringing victory to Ronald Reagan and the entire Republican ticket in November."

Michals called on all of George Christopher's supporters to rally behind Reagan. "California voters have clearly indicated their displeasure with the incumbent governor," he said. "A united Republican Party will win the governorship for Ronald Reagan and return responsive and responsible government to the state."

Kosygin Asks Finn Support For Russian 'Peace Talks'

HELSINKI (UPI) —Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin called again today for a general European conference on security to ensure the peace of Europe.

Soviet leaders had made a simipar appeal earlier this year for a conference that would exclude the United States.

Kosygin, speaking at a program arranged by the Finnish-Soviet Friendship Society, also warned West Germany that the postwar borders cannot be changed and that Europe must recognize that there are two German states.

He called on Finland to support Soviet peace efforts anf said:

"Inspired by her desire for peace the Soviet government has taken the initiative to call a general European conference on the question of European security. The securing of peace in Europe is a matter affecting all European governments, large as well as small."

Kosygin's statement came as he neared the end of a five day visit ho Finland. He held a final round of talks with Finnish officials and visited a company that sells Russian cars.

Informed sources said Russia's proposals for a European security conference —excluding the United States —has been a top item during talks between the two leaders. Proposls for such a conference was put forth recently by Soviet Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev.

Kosygin and Kekkonen were expected to discuss the matter further today during a return trip to the Finnish capital by train after a tour of industrial installations at OULU, Raahe and Kokkola in northern Finland.

In return for Finnish backing for the Russian conference call, Kosygin was supportingnKekkonen's own proposal for an agreement formally declared the Nordic region—Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Finland — as a non-nuclear area.

The sources said, however, that it was doubtful that Kekkonen would publicly back any Soviet plan calling for an end to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, or U.S. withdrawal from the European continent. The Finish president, however, may announce in favor of the Russian call for a collective security system.

Robbery Suspect Also Faces Suit

HONOLULU (AP)—A 22-year-old man accused of a $10,000 armed robbery in Stockton, Calif. May 3 has been sued in Honolulu for $3,000.

The suit named as defendant William M. Rogers, also known as William M. Davis.

Rogers has waived extradition and will leave Sunday for Stockton to face allegations that he held up the Don Quick supermarket and took $10,000 after overpowering the store's bookkeeper.

The suit filed in Honolulu by Farmers' Insurance Exchange of Los Angeles was for recovery of $3,000 it paid to the store to cover part of the robbery loss.

San Rafael Hospital Closing Has Great Effect At Marin General

By STEPHEN COOK

When San Rafael General Hospital closed its doors May 27, the burden which had been carried by that 71-year-old institution was transferred to two of the county's remaining four hospitals.

Marin General Hospital, through no intention of its own, took the lion's slice of the medical care pie. Ross General Hospital has also noted an upward trend in its occupancy rate.

Milton Scott, adminsitrator of Novato General Hospital, and Charles T. Bruce, assistant administrator at Terra Linda Valley Hospital, both report the closing had no noticeable effect on their hospitals.

In the case of Marin General Hospital, the closing of San Rafael General had a dramatic effect. It left the 14-year-old district hospital with the only emergency room in southern Marin. The only other emergency room in the county is at Novato hospital.

Until its demise, San Rafael General contracted with the County of Marin to provide emergency treatment to all the county's welfare cases, except those whose injuries were so severe that the hospital was not equipped to handle them. They went to Marin General.

A county indigent who appeared at Marin General emergency room with anything less than a serious wound or illness was transferred to San Rafael General.

In addition, all alcoholics or mentally imbalanced persons arrested in southern Marin were taken to San Rafael. There, a county doctor ruled if they should be jailed, sent to Napa or hospitalized locally.

San Rafael General also took a share of all those injured in auto accidents in southern Marin, and treated most of the injured prisoners enroute to the nearby county jail.

All of those patients now show up at the emergency room in Marin General Hospital.

The change, according to head emergency nurse Francine Vieites, can be seen in the statistics. Marin General treated 472 emergency cases in the first nine days of June, compared to 310 during the first nine days of May.

If these statistics give a true picture, this would indicate a better than 50 per cent increase in emergency patients at Marin General since San Rafael's hospital closed its doors.

San Rafael went out of business on the eve of the three-day Memorial Day weekend, adding to the usually frantic holiday pace at Marin General's emergency center.

According to Mrs. Vieites and nurse Barbara Latta, supervisor of emergency, not all patients could fit into the normal treatment areas and some were treated on gurnies in the corridor. Anxious relatives and friends far outnumbered the chairs in the reception room and were sitting on the floors.

Statistics also show a rise in the medical surgical bed occupancy rate at Marin General since San Rafael closed. Some of the rise, though, must also be attributed too the state medical care Casey Bill, which went into effect in March.

The average medical surgical bed occupancy per day from July, 1965, to April, 1966, was 101.7 beds per day. In May, while San Rafael was closing out, that average rose to 117.4 per day and in the first seven days of June, it was about 127.

The hospital's present medical surgical bed capacity is 130, according to Controller Thomas Sinna. To meet the increased demand, the hospital is adding six more beds by doubling up six single rooms.

Ross General Hospital, with a capacity of 110 medical surgical beds, had an average daily occupancy of 97.7 beds in the first week of June, compared to 93.6 in the first week of May. The hospital is remodeling its third floor and will add another 13 beds when that job is complete.

Officials at both Marin General say it is unusual to have such a high occupancy rate at this time of year, when business usually slackens off.

They are wondering what the effect will be next month, when persons over the age of 65 start reaping the benefits of Medicare. "It's a good thing these changes are coming during the summer," said Sinna.

As to the emergency room at Marin General, Nurse Latta hopes the hospital will undertake some floor plan changes to ease the congestion.

Since the hospital opened, the emergency room has grown by only one treatment room (capable of handling one patient), some extra corridor space, and a larger reception room area.

Mrs. Latta claims nurses there can handle eight patients at a time satisfactorily right now. Three of them would be in three treatment rooms, two in a treatment ward for non-surgical patients, and three on gurnies in the corridor. They once handled 18 at a time during a major accident.

What Nurse Latta wants is an expanded treatment room for one bed, two gurnies and four treatment tables, and more floor space in the cramped nurse work room. The hospital staff is studying the proposal, she said.

Fire Safety Law 'Already On Books'

County Building Inspector Hans J. Berge today said that the building code provision sought by Terra Linda Fire Chief George Walser, which would require self-closing doors between garages and dwellings, "is already on the books and I've been enforcing it.

Walser had made his recommendation after a $48,800 fire Monday destroyed the home of James R. Robertson at 704 Las Colindas Road. Walser said today an electrical short-circuit probably caused the blaze.

He added that investigation into the cause is continuing, and a final determination is expected by Wednesday. He said arson has been definitely ruled out as a possibility.

'Keep Sand Beach' Sausalitans Urge

Sausalito's Tiffany Beach at Bridgeway and North Street steps should be kept at its present level with the sea and remain a sand beach when Bridgeway is widened.

This was urged by the Sausalito Citizens Council to the city council at a meeting of the citizens council board last night.

The board, reported corresponding secretary Carl W. Spring, also agreed to compliment the city council on two scores. One is on the council decision to hire landscape architects to plan Bridgeway widening and, secondly, to compliment the council for requesting City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to investigate an ordinance governing preservation of trees on private property.

Sewage Treatment Plants May Merge, Directors Predict

The reorganization committee for the proposed Tamalpais Community Services District last night decided it may be possible some day for that district and Marincello to have a joint sewage treatment plant at Tennessee Cove.

But committee members also agreed that is far enough in the future not to effect present organization plans.

The committee decided that the Tamalpais Sanitary District, within the proposed community services district, would drop its tax and the new district will have to collect fees through a sewer service charge.

The committee also ruled that a small area of the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District, at Tennessee Valley Road and Shoreline Highway should be put in the proposed community services district.

The committee agreed to meet again at an undetermined date to review a draft report to the Marin County Local Agency Formation Committee to be prepared by Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows. The committee is to report to the LAFC in August.

Inn Slayers' Time In Prison Detailed

Mark C. Osuna, has spent a third of his life, and Jack R. Gorman, half of his, in prison, according to records introduced today in the penalty phase of their trial.

Both were convicted earlier of first degree murder for the killing of bartender Mario Ferrari in the Mission Inn holdup in San Rafael last Labor Day.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales is seeking the death penalty in their Marin Superior Court trial.

Today, Robert T. Powers, records officer at San Quentin, turned Osuna's penal history over to the court.

The records showed that Osuna, now 30, entered the prison system at Chino in Los Angeles County in August, 1956, for second degree robbery and was transferred to San Quentin last October.

He was paroled in April, 1962. A subsequent offense put him in Neill Island federal penitentiary in Washington a month later until July 1964, when he was returned to San Quentin as a parole violater. He remained at San Quentin until May, 1965, when he was paroled again. On Sept. 20, 1965, he was arrested for the murder of Ferrari.

Gorman, now 36, was arrested the records show, in 1948 and sent to prison for life for robbery and kidnaping in Sacrament. He was paroled from San Quentin last August and arrested for Ferrari's murder a month later.

Osuna's parole officer, Frank O. Gifford, testified that he learned after Osuna's arrest last September that he had violated five conditions of parole.

Gifford presented a copy of his charges against Osuna filed with the Adult Authority. They specified that Osuna had twice left the county without permission, falsified employment information, had possession of a gun, associated with other parolees and bought a car without permission.

Gifford's testimony was admitted over objections by defense attorneys that all of his information was hearsay.

Gifford said he had seen Osuna "twice a week on the average" and had thought he was "adjusting adequately" to civil life.

'Borrowed Boat' Youth Charged

Mark Lewis, 16, of Menlo Park was being cited to Marin County Probation Department today on charges of grand theft in connection with the $15,000 sailboat he reportedly "borrowed" June 6 from its Sausalito berth.

Sausalito police said the youth came to Sausalito with his parents today. The case is expected to be transferred to San Mateo County since Lewis resides there, police said.

Lewis reportedly stole the boat June 6 from its berth, then drifted down the coast for seven days until found 100 miles off Morro Bay by a Japanese freighter.

THE SCHOOLS PROBE

Part Of Baar Statements Revealed In CTA Report

(Last in a series)

Part of what caused San Rafael City Councilman Louis H. Baar to say last year that "some of the things they teach (at San Rafael High School) couldn't be repeated in this room" come to light for the first time in a California Teachers Assn. report on San Rafael schools.

Baar made the statement during a city council meeting on May 3, 1965. He and other councilmen reported they had been subjected to a scurrilous telephone campaign against appointment to the board of education of Mrs. Anita C. Strom. The council appointed her, 4-to-1. Mayor C. Paul Bettini, ex-school board member whom she replaced, dissented, saying things Mrs. Strom has proposed "were justifiable things to be corrected . . . The only thing that I objected to was the method."

What followed Baar's startling remark was one reason the San Rafael Teachers Assn., local CTA affiliate, asked for an investigation by a team from the CTA's Bay Section personnel standards and ethics commission. A team of five—a retired school administrator, a principal, two teachers and a school board member—spent two days interviewing 117 people in a Corte Madera motel room and came up with a 55-page report.

The report includes this:

"An investigation of these charges (Baar's) by the district administration unearthed complaints that certain teachers had made classroom statements such as, 'Christ and Ghandi (sic) were politicians,' and 'pornography never hurt anyone.'"

The report nowhere identifies the teachers.

"The superintendent failed to investigate promptly and make his findings known," says the report. "The statement of the councilman was neither substantiated nor refuted. The teachers against whom the allegations were made waited 13 weeks to be contacted after their names became known to the superintendent."

The commission's report is highly critical of the appointment of Mrs. Strom, calling her "the leader of the conservatives who had been attacking the schools for 10 years." It says her appointment "was made over the protests of a large number of citizens and teachers." It does not mention the villification campaign against her.

It is critical, also, of the city council's appointment this year of Herman L. Childress to the board of education, to succeed Walter J. Doll, who resigned. Childress's appointment and that of Mrs. Strom, it says, "gave board seats to two representatives of the community's conservative group which had never been able to elect its candidates."

The two-day inquiry of the five school people into San Rafael school troubles also produced the report that "some of the local PTA units lacked understanding of their role in the school." It recommended "that assistance be sought from the California Congress of Parents and Teachers to set up training sessions for local PTA officers and executive board members." It expressed fear that right-wing extremists are taking over the San Rafael High School Parent-Teacher Assn.

As an example of PTA activities, it reported, that a high school PTA president gave American flags to all classrooms at San Rafael High. It held this was improper.

A fairish amount of the report concerns the Independent-Journal (always referred to as "the press" or "the local newspaper," since nobody is called by name in the report).

It says:

"The San Rafael newspaper gives extensive coverage to school board meetings and school news, justifying commendation for fulfilling this civic responsibility. However, it was criticized by many members of the community and of the board for 'biased news coverage of school affairs' and for its editorials . . .

"Little has been done by the superintendent or board . . . to inform the community about what the school system is attempting to do. . . . The newspaper, the panel learned, has no option save to seek miscellaneous sources for news of school affairs. . . . The board and administration are believed by many witnesses to be responsible for the preponderance of adveres publicity. This feeling, however, was not shared by all who consider the newspaper hypercritical in tone and attitude, and who think the city editor's (Bryce W. Anderson's) outspoken dissatisfaction with aspects of the present school system are damaging to school effectiveness."

In its recommendations, the report says:

"Much of the criticism of the alleged slanting of news about schools could be dispelled by provision for an orderly process of keeping the local newspaper appraised of school affairs. . . . The negative effects of adverse publicity will be increased by attempts to cover up facts. . . . Mutual respect and honesty must be achieved between the newspaper and the school district if the public is to get a true picture of its schools."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Many Chemicals Available Now For Urinary Tract Infections

VAN DELLEN

The urinary passages are vulnerable to a host of microorganisms. When the bladder is the site of an invasion, the ensuing irritation leads to burning and frequency of urination, along with vague discomfort in the lower abdomen. When the organisms spread to the kidney, there is dull aching over the involved side of the back.

Chills and fever may occur and occasionally the bowel joins the melee as a gesture of sympathy for the dilemma of its neighbor. Urinary tract infections may last a few days and then subside or persist for months or years in mild but stubborn form.

DISORDERS of this nature do not develop spontaneously. In some, they follow a respiratory disturbance such as the common cold or a strep throat. In others, bacteria spread from a nearby source such as the prostate gland or rectum. Obstruction of the urinary passageway from kidney stone or stricture is another possibility.

A half century ago we had little to offer victims of urinary tract infections. It was at this time that hexamethylenamine, the first urinary antiseptic of any real value, came into being. The substance acted only when the urine was acid. This plan had its drawbacks because of the irritation that followed.

MERCUROCHROME was the next antiseptic to come upon the scene. The chemical was given as much publicity in its day as penicillin, but its glory was short-lived. Many of us think of the preparation only as a local antiseptic but at that time it was injected into the bloodstream and also inserted directly into the bladder.

Hexylresorcinol followed in 1925 and then came the ketogenic diet and mandelic acid. The real change took place when the sulfonamides were introduced. There are many of these drugs on the market including combinations of different products. Trisulfapyrimidine, sulfisoxazole, sulfisomidine, and sulfamethizole are used most often because they are highly antibacterial in urine.

The antibiotics also are of value. The ideal treatment is to pit the specific drug against the causative organism. This is why the urine is cultured to determine the cause before the remedy is started.

Novato Teachers Held Dissatisfied

By THERON NEWELL

Teachers at Novato High School and two elementary schools are dissatisfied with the administrators, a recent survey by the California Teachers Ass'n. revealed this week.

Teachers also criticized class loads, lack of supplies, work rooms, and the school board.

Generally, the educators were satisfied with teaching assignments, methods of teaching, their community status, job security, and would recommend the district to prospective teachers.

In requesting permission for the survey, the CTA said it had chosen Novato as one of nine districts because it wanted to test a newly-unified district to determine teacher attitude. The survey was done at no cost to the district.

Criticism came mostly from Novato High School teachers, with some from Rancho and Lynwood Schools, the latter mainly against the principals.

Questions were divided into nine categories, and graded on a percentage basis. If 25 per cent of teachers made certain complaints, this was considered normal. If criticism reached 30 or 40 per cent, a need for attention to these areas was indicated.

The nine categories and summation of results were:

1. Working conditions. Teachers at the high school, one junior high school, and two elemtary schools felt too much time was wasted in non-essential functions. Except for those at two junior high schools, all complained of too many students.

Teachers did not feel they had too much "home work," and were satisfied with teaching assignments. Teachers in the high school, San Jose Junior High School, and Lynwood School felt there were too many interruptions in classroom schedule. None complained of too many faculty meetings.

Only teachers at the two junior high schools, Rancho and West Novato, did not complaining about insufficient supplies and equipment.

The high school and San Jose Junior High School teachers, with an occassional complaint from the elementary schools, felt there was too much clerical work, insufficient work rooms and rest lounges, too many committee meetings, and too short a lunch hour.

2. Job Security. High school teachers felt their job security depended on remaining silent on important issues, they felt they would be discriminated against by their superiors, or if they disagreed, would be given less desireable assignments. In one junior high school and two elementary schools, teachers thought that the salary schedule was unfair.

3. Status. Teachers had no complaints about their community status, their personal life in the community, and said they were free to use their own teaching methods and ideas, were free to join teachers organizations, and were encouraged to make suggestions.

4. Faculty relations. Here the high school teachers felt that there were rival cliques, that the atmosphere needed improvement, and that there should be improvement between teachers and administrator relations.

5. Principal-teacher relationships. The high school and Rancho School teachers with some from Lynwood, showed almost universal dissatisfaction with the relationships between the principal and teachers. These criticism included: Principal showing favoritism, not giving clear instructions, not giving help, new teachers not given special help, not having a sense of humor, not prepared for his job, not giving moral support or praise, divulging confidential information, not being available when teachers needed, and taking suggestions as personal criticism.

6. Confidence in the administration. Here again the high school, Rancho and Lynwood school teachers, with a smattering from other elementary schools, expressed dissatisfaction with the administration. Almost all of the schools critized the districts inservice program as insufficient.

Other criticism included: extra duties not shared equally, that things were not conducive to improving teaching, that they were not informed about changes, that the district was not operated efficiently, that their work was not evaluated fairly, that teachers were not informed of things they should be, that promises given were not kept by the administration, that they could not count on the administration's support in parent's complaints, that student discipline needed improvement, and that pupil absence was excessive. Also that they were asked to work on committees and this work was ignored. The policies of the district are not told the teachers, and the superintendent is unconcerned about real educational goals, the teachers charged.

7. School board. There was universal complaint about the district not paying as much as it could afford in salaries, that the teaches were not treated as professionals but more like hired hands by the board. It also charged that the board is more concerned about taxes than the educational program.

8. Educational values. Only in the high school and Lu Sutton School did the teachers feel that the school was not meeting the educational needs of the pupils and that educational standards were not being upheld.

9. General reaction to the district. Here again the high school teaches leveled the most criticism. They charged that students were treated differenly because of the parents' influence and prestige; that there was a need for a more normal consideration and respect for the pupils. Other complained that the school has not improved enough in the past five years. Teacher morale needs improvement, and the teaches have left the school because they did not like to work there.

General criticism from all over the district was that many areas need investigation, and that teachers had to spend too much of their own money for classroom needs.

Teachers from all over the district, except the high school, would recommend the district to prospective teachers.

Officers Identify Ice Pick Stabber

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sheriff's deputies identified Thursday a woman held in the stabbing of a baby as Miss Sandra Louise Colburn, about 30, whom they had evicted from a $45 a month flat because she was behind on her rent.

Stabbed Tuesday was Steven Warren, 5 months old, who has developed "neurological symptoms" at Children's Hospital. The sight in his right eye also is endangered. The stabbing occurred in Golden Gate Park.

President of Terra Linda Rotary Club is Dr. Edward C. Sargent, and vice president is Bernard J. Kearns.

Tiburon General Plan Will Get Hearing Monday

A public hearing on the proposed general plan will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in Del Mar School by the Tiburon Planning Commission.

Prepared by Williams, Cook and Mocine, planning consultants, the general plan outlines proposed residential and commercial development on the Tiburon Peninsula. It includes a system of hiking and bicycle trails.

The general plan is not to be confused with the downtown sketch plan by Callister and Payne, on which the commission has concluded public hearings. The downtown plan is intended to be phased into the general plan.

The two plans vary over the waterfront area. The general plan calls for tourist oriented retail use along the waterfront and railroad yards area with no new street while the downtown plan envisions a waterfront park and more traffic circulation through another four-lane street along the railroad right of way.

More than 125 production steps are involved in the process of manufacturing a common lead pencil, according to the Lead Pencil Manufacturers Assn.

Want Ads Blood Plea Works Fast

A want ad in the Independent-Journal requesting "blood donors for Willy Waschke" brought response from as far away as Salinas, said Mrs. Myrtle Waschke of 645 Peach Street, Novato.

Her husband, a civilian employee at Hamilton Air Force Base here, where he has been a baker for 20 years, had major surgery two months ago. He was recovering at Novato General Hospital when a sudden relapse caused him to need recurrent blood transfusions.

He had used 22 transfusions already. Mrs. Waschke placed the ad as a distress call to build up a reserve account and replace the blood already used.

She said the call from Salinas was from a retired Air Force officer who wanted to help. Other donors are planning to go the Marin Blood Center, 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael, where donor hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Donations may be credited directly to Waschke or to the Marin Community Reserve Fund in his name.

"It isn't really necessary to use the want ads for blood donors," said a spokesman for the Marin Blood Center today, "but it is heartwarming to know that people care enough to respond."

"In her anxiety over her husband's condition Mrs. Waschke didn't realize that the Marin and Novato Community Blood Reserve Funds were founded and are available for just such emergency purposes. Marin residents are entitled to call upon the Blood Reserve Funds for blood credits in emergencies."

"This story," said the Blood Center officials, "is one that every Marinite should remember well, for such medical emergencies can happen to anyone. There are facilities to help if people are knowledgeable about their community resources."

SUMMER STREAK

Who's That Visitor Over Novato Skies?

By THERON A. NEWELL

"Twinkle, twinkle satellite,
Streaking through the summer night;
What you are I do not doubt,
But it's too costly to find out."

The stars in the summer night over North Marin have a visitor. There is no doubt in the eyes of the many people who have watched it streak across the sky that it is a satellite.

Inquiries were made at Hamilton Air Force Base. The North American Air Defense Command headquarters there did not know which satellite it was nor could their radar pick it up so that an accurate orbit could be determined.

No two of the many reports of it have agreed exactly on the direction which is streaked across the sky, nor the exact time.

Night after night the reports come in that it goes from over Mount Burdell southeast to Big Rock Ridge. It first started about 11 p.m. but got earlier each night until it was seen just after 9 p.m.

Officials at Hamilton asked Space Detection and Tracking System Headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo. With the information, SPADATS officials refused to spend the $4,000 to $5,000 to take one of their computers off the system to feed it the information to find out which satellite is going over Marin County.

So whether it is an Echo, or the new PAGEOS (Passive Geodetic Satellite) scheduled to be sent up and inflated to a 100 foot diameter baloon to map the earth) or just what, on one knows.

Hundreds of people are sure that it is there, because they can see it night after night.

Housing Authority Seeks Permit In Tam Valley

Marin County Housing Authority wants to build a 30 unit senior citizen home at Linden Lane and Montford Avenue in Tamalpais Valley.

The authority has asked County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill for a use permit to construct the homes, and the request will be considered June 27.

Also before Cordill then will be a use permit requested by Rev. James Corbett Sr., of University of San Francisco, for a private recreation building and swimming pool at the end of Crane Drive in Sleepy Hollow, for the use of about 20 Jesuit fathers.

The Marin County Motorcycle Assn., has asked a permit to allow a motorcycle scramble on Jacoby Street at Sims Street in east San Rafael.

Perry Gets First Call Against Dodgers Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Juan Marichal will more than likely miss pitching in the three-game weekend series at Los Angeles against the Dodgers, which could hurt the San Francisco Giants.

But it won't hurt Marichal's bid to win 30 games this season. He became the major's first 12-game winner this season by stopping the Houston Astros 2-1 yesterday on four hits.

The victory put Marichal 13 days or three turns ahead of Dizzy Dean, last man to win 30 major league games in one season. Dean did it in 1934 for the St. Louis Cardinals.

All three games in the Giants-Dodgers series this weekend will be televised by KTVU, Channel 2. Broadcast time for tonight and tomorrow is 7:55 p.m. Sunday's game will be televised at 12:55 p.m.

Marichal's latest masterpiece came in the 62nd game of the season. In the 100 games remaining, Marichal should get 25 more starts, if he stays relatively healthy.

This means Marichal must post an 18-7 record for the rest of the way to pick up 30. Dean finished 1934 at 30-7.

Starting Marichal in turn instead of saving him for the Dodgers resulted in the following proposed pitching plan in Los Angeles — Gaylord Perry (6-1) tonight against Don Sutton (7-4), Ray Sadecki vs. Sandy Koufax tomorrow and Joe Gibbon vs. Claude Osteen Sunday.

The series between the first-place Giants and the closely pursuing Dodgers will draw crowds that could make Dodger owner Walter O'Malley forget for a few moments what he's playing Koufax and Don Drysdale to pitch this year.

The top spot in the National League is at stake as it was last weekend. The Dodgers took first place away from the Giants by capturing the first two games before Marichal stopped them in the third on a four-hitter.

Marichal now has won two in a row since being beaten 6-1 at Houston June 8. The Giants carry a five-game winning streak into Los Angeles.

"What was the difference between this time against Houston and the last time?" someone asked the dominican right-hander.

"The difference was that down here they scored six runs and here they scored one," proclaimed Marichal as an impish grin slowly worked across his face.

He was in an impish mood all afternoon. He came into the clubhouse after the game clenching a cellophane-wrapped cigar in his teeth like "Groucho" Marichal. It actually hadn't been that jolly.

The Giants got two runs in the second off starter and loser Bob Bruce and picked up a single from Willie McCovey in the third. That was the last Giants' hit. Claude Raymond finished four hitless innings of relief.

Tom Haller hit his 11th homer and third in three days in the second. He hit 16 all last year. Ollie Brown and Hal Lanier then singled. Brown scored from third on Marichal's tapper that third-baseman Bob Aspromonte threw home a shade too late.

The Astros scored off Marichal in the sixth on singles by Joe Morgan and Jim Wynn and an error by shortstop Lanier on Chuck Harrison's grounder.

For no other reason except that it worked, Marichal disdained his famous fast ball for nearly all the first five innings. One way or the other, 10 Astros popped up.

"Maybe they thought they were seeing the ball good," offered Marichal, who doesn't fight success.

Tacoma Club Pro Takes Early Lead In U.S. Open

JIM MURRAY

I Knew Something Was Wrong: Aha!

SAN FRANCISCO—Ever get the feeling things aren't right? Like you walk into a church you think is your denomination and all of a sudden you notice the prayers are in Latin? Or, they AREN'T? Or, you go home with an overcoat you THOUGHT was yours?

I couldn't put my finger on it, but I KNEW something was wrong with this National Open right away. It was not the rough. There it was — like a student demonstrator's hair, matted, unruly, un-cut, a greasy thicket, everything but dandruff. It wasn't the greens it would be easier to stop a shot on the north face of the Matterhorn.

I WENT DOWN to the locker room and copied the names off the walls. Nope. Nothing wrong here. Guy Bill made it. So did Alexander R. Sutton. So did Marion Heck, Edgar M. Tutwiler Jr., Don Essig the Third, Rodney Horn, Andrew Borkovich, Phil Bankert, Herb Hooper, Hale S. Irwin Jr., Ockie Eliason, Stan Thirsk. All the giants of Golf were here. The immortal Samuel E. Marsh, and four-time winner of the Glen Oaks club championship in Farmington Township, Mich., Casmere R. Jawor would be in it, a three-some with Tom Shaw and Mack Main. Watch for them on TV Sunday. They'll be in the gallery on No. 18, third from the left.

I went out on the fairways. Everybody had an alpaca, 14 clubs. Ty Caplin was testing the rough and trying his fade shots in case he gets in a playoff with Arnold Palmer for all the marbles Monday. Charles K. Huckaby was practicing his dreaded iron game, and the crowd noticed significantly he was outdriving Robert S. Eichstredt.

THEN, ALL at once it hit me. "Hey!" I shouted at the USGA man in the red coat and regimental-striped tie. "Shouldn't one of those players be wearing a coconut hat and saying 'oot' for 'out' and 'aboot' for 'about' and have a hillbilly twang and the sweetest swing this side of an apple tree?"

"Where," I demanded, "is Samuel Jackson Snead? Miss his plane, did he? Trying a new hair restorer? Get caught breeding monkeys in his hotel room again?"

I WENT DOWN to the first tee, to the starter's table. "Listen," I said. "No matter what happens, don't start this thing till a guy in a palmetto hat with an accent you could fry chicken in show up."

"Sam Snead didn't make it," the fellow told me. The rube.

I didn't lose my temper. "Listen," I told him. "Sam Snead has been in every Open since Wooden shafts. Didn't you ever hear about the '8' he took on the last hole at Spring Mill in '39 when he could have won the Open with a bogey? What about the 30-inch putt he missed in the playoff against Worsham in '47 when someone said 'Sam, I've got a hen to home can lay an egg farther than that!' What about the '55 Open right here when Sam opened with 79 and someone said 'How'd you do, Sam?' and Sam said 'Fine! I broke 80!' What do you mean trying to start an Open without Sam Snead?"

"HE DIDN'T qualify," the man said resentfully. I was losing my patience. "Listen," I said, "would you make Babe Ruth pass a batting test to play in the All-Star game? Does Sandy Koufax have to pass an oral test on the theory of pitching to start the World Series? Would Spencer Tracy have to test for a part in a Western? Qualifying is for Guy Bill — for Sam Marsh, not Sam Snead. They let Ben Hogan in on a pass, didn't they? And rightly so. Now, you just get Sam Snead on the phone—don't make it collect or you won't reach him—and tell him to get right on a plane and get down here. Tell him Ben is waiting.

"But Ben won four of these things. He's special," the man said. "Sam didn't even try for the playoff for an alternate's spot. Bob Crowley got in when Peter Thomson had to drop out."

I COULDN'T believe my ears. "You mean to tell me," I said, struggling to contain myself, "that somebody named 'Bob Crowley' is going to have the nerve to show up in an Open that doesn't have room for Sam Snead?"

He did not have the decency to look ashamed and blush. The way I look at it, about half the locker room should join him. Those What's-Their-Names down there and What's-Their-Names Jr. and also Whozis the Third.

Tommie Smith Going After NCAA Marks

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—San Jose State's Tommie Smith, looming as the world's all-time fastest human, and Texas A&M's Randy Matson, the world's best shot putter, get down to cases in the 45th NCAA track and field meet today.

In preliminary competition yesterday at Indiana University, Smith officially matched the NCAA 100-yard record of 9.3 and unofficially equalled the world 220-yard mark of 20.2, while Matson easily set an NCAA shot put mark of 65-6¼ on one of his two qualifying tosses.

The meet tempo picks up today in another twilight session with six finals. Included are an expected hot 100-yard showdown between Smith and defending champion Charlie Greene of Nebraska, and the shot put in which Matson should improve on his NCAA record.

Yesterday's only final was the six-mile run, captured by world co-record holder, Washington State's Gerry Lindgren, in the modest time of 28:07. This was far below the current world record of 27:11.6 which Lindgren shares with Billy Mills.

Today's program also includes qualifying in the discus and 440-yard relay which further unveil the talents of Smith—an anchor man on San Jose State's baton quartet—and Matson, aiming at the NCAA's 13-year-old platter record.

Smith also performs today in the broad jump finals after posting the third best qualifying distance of 24-4½ yesterday.

In team competition, favored UCLA got off to a good start in seeking to dethrone co-champions Southern California and Oregon. The Uclans picked up eight points.

Additionally, UCLA has the ranking contender, Marc Savage, in the pole vault and top-rated teams in the 440 and the mile relays—three events included on Saturday's closing program of 13 finals.

Among other team challengers are Southern California, Oregon, Brigham Young and San Jose State.

Today's feature event is the 100-yard showdown between Smith and Greene after each qualified Thursday at 9.3, equalling the NCAA record.

The flying Smith's 20.2 clocking in the 220 trials, matching the world mark of Arizona State's Henry Carr, was wind assisted and not an official effort.

Three high hurdle qualifiers yesterday were Dale Frederick, Arizona sophomore, with 13.7 and UCLA's Ron Copeland and Brigham Young's Al Rockwell with 13.8 each.

HOORAY!—Al Mengert of Tacoma, Wash., shows his feelings after sinking a 10-foot putt on the 17th green in the opening round of the U.S. Open yesterday in San Francisco. He grabbed the first round lead with a three-under par 67. (AP Wirephoto)

Mengert Shoots 3-Under-Par 67

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Al Mengert, a club pro from Tacoma, Wash., who grabbed the first-round lead in the U.S. Open Golf Tournament, says mental condition is all-important for the darkhorses.

"A fellow like me, a club pro, has to lick a mental block," Mengert said after carving out a three-under-par 67 yesterday.

"A club pro only plays about three times a week. The guys on the tour play all the time and you may figure that gives them an advantage. So you have to get geared up mentally. You have to build your confidence."

The 67 also gave him a one-stroke lead over Gene Littler and Don Massengale, and a two-stroke margin over Billy Casper. He toured the 6,719 yards of the par 70 Olympic Country Club course without suffering a bogey. He had three birds.

So his mental condition — so far as golf is concerned — seemed fine.

But he may have overdone it.

He was such a darkhorse in this prestigious field of 151 that he brought his wife along to help him introduce himself.

"I'm six feet tall, weigh 200 pounds," he said. "I'm 38."

"Thirty-seven," his wife said.

"I have four children, two boys and two girls. The boys are 10 and 14 and the girls are three and five."

"Three and six," his wife said.

"Jeez," Mengert said, "You'd think I had been on the tour."

He was, briefly, in 1955. But he has never won a major tournament. He turned pro in 1952 and served as an assistant pro at Winged Foot Country Club in suburban New York for three years. He later had club pro jobs in New Jersey, St. Louis, Phoenix and Sacramento before moving to the Tacoma Golf and Country Club two years ago.

"I'm a family man," he said. "I don't like the tour. I like tournaments, but not the tour. I can't take that day to day grind."

He has played in nine Masters and is in his seventh open. This, of course, is his best showing.

"It's probably the best round of competitive golf I've had since I won the Metropolitan Open in New Jersey in 1960," he said.

He reeled off six threes in a stretch of eight holes, starting with the par three eighth. He dropped in a 30-foot birdie putt on nine, had only a three-foot putt for a birdie on 10 and ran in a 15-footer for his third birdie n 12.

"But the 17th was the most satisfying," Mengert said. "My second shot was from the rough and was short of the trap. I chipped about 18 feet away from the pin, but got the putt.

"I really wanted to save that par. I wanted to get around this beast without a bogey."

Littler, the 1961 Open champion, and Massengale managed to take two strokes off par and Billy Casper was one under.

Grouped at par 70 are Phil Rodgers, Doug Sanders, San Francisco amateur John Miller and Australian Kel Nagle, who lost the 1965 Open title to Gary Player in a playoff.

At 71 were PGA champ Dave Marr, Masters champ Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema, Arnold Palmer, Bob Goalby, Tom Nieporte and Wes Ellis Jr. Four-time champion Ben Hogan, who received a special invitation to the tournament, was one of 10 at 72.

Player came in with a 78 after missing seven putts of four feet or less, including one of 15 inches.

"My chipping was atrocious," Palmer said, while Nicklaus said, "I just hit some bad golf shots."

The field will be trimmed to the low 60 and ties after today's second round. The final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by ABC-TV.

Giants Appear To Be 'Road Team' This Year; Next 14 Days Will Tell

HANLEY

LOS ANGELES—When the Giants won the National League pennant in 1962 they did it with a 61-21 record at Candlestick and a 42-41 mark on the road. The 40 over .500 home record in 1962 was remarkable, the one over .500 road record acceptable.

For the first time since they moved to the Golden Gate in 1958, the Giants this year look like they might be a road team. They blazed to an 11-2 mark in their first 13 road games. After 22, they were 16-6 due to four straight victories at the outset of their last 11-game trip. Then they tapered off, dropping five of the final seven on the last swing.

SO THEY now are starting on their fourth trip with a respectable 18-11 road record. This trip will really test their road stamina because it is a 15-game schedule, including a couple of double-headers, in 14 days. Furthermore, the temperatures are rising now in the midwest and east.

The trip starts tonight with a tough three-game weekend series against the Dodgers in Chavez Ravine. Next Monday will be a welcome day of rest, the first one since May 23 and the last one of the trip. Then in the next 10 days the Giants face a 12-game schedule.

THE FIRST doubleheader comes next Wednesday in Chicago during a four-game series with the Cubs. The double billing Wednesday in Wrigley Field is due to an April 20 rainout.

From Chicago the Giants fly to Cincinnati for three with the Reds, thence to St. Louis for three with the Cardinals and finally to Atlanta for a one-day visit and doubleheader with the Braves.

NATURALLY, an 8-7 outcome at the end of the trip would be most acceptable. Anything over .500 on a road trip is considered a success although the 6-5 mark on the last trip wasn't exactly anything to cheer about in view of the 4-0 way it started.

Even a 7-8 outcome of the next 15 games would be far from depressing despite being under .500. It still would leave the Giants substantially over .500 at 25-19 on the road before the All-Star break.

LAST YEAR AT the mid-season pause the Giants were 21-23 on the road.

One mandatory requirement of a pennant contender is an ability to win on the road. Thus far the 1966 Giants have displayed such an ability. Now, during the next two weeks, they must prove it wasn't just an early season 12-game hot streak that made them look like a road club this year.

HEY, WILLIE, GUESS WHAT — San Francisco Giants first baseman Willie McCovey is out by a mile trying to reach second in the sixth inning of yesterday's game against the Houston Astros. Waiting to put the tag on McCovey is Houston second baseman Joe Morgan. (AP Wirephoto)

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Cloninger Turns Slugger As Braves Bomb Mets; Cubs Trim Dodgers 5-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Cloninger was batting .500 when $100,000 convinced him he had no future as a hitter.

Now he's batting .184 — and wondering again.

The Atlanta pitcher, a $100,000 bonus baby eight years ago and a 24-game winner last season, turned slugger last night, driving in five runs with the second and third homers of his major league career as the Braves stomped the New York Mets 17-1.

The Braves' 17 runs and 22 hits were the highest single-game totals in the majors this year.

Cloninger started out as a hard-hitting catcher at Rock Springs High School in Denver, N.C., but wound up as a pitching sensation who attracted scouts from every major league club. "Like all athletes in high school, I hit real good," he said. "My last year I hit .500, but that doesn't mean much.

"I always wanted to play every day, but I soon found out in talking to major league scouts that I didn't have a chance as a catcher. They said I might be a good defensive catcher, but they didn't think I'd hit enough. I guess they were right."

The 25-year-old right-hander, who was struggling along with a 5-7 pitching record before his date with the Mets, stopped them on five hits while stroking a single in addition to three-run and two-run homers—for a .63-point boost in his batting average to .184.

Cloninger hit his only previous big league homer last season—against the Mets.

The Braves, who had lost five of their previous six games, went on their run-hit binge before a Banner Night crowd of 15,108 in Atlanta. The winning banner, chosen before the game, read: "Massacre Mets."

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco's Juan Marichal became the majors' first 12-game winner in the first-place Giants' 2-1 victory over Houston, the Chicago Cubs upended Don Drysdale and the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3; Philadelphia slugged Cincinnati 12-5 with a 19-hit attack and Pittsburgh edged St. Louis 2-1.

Washington nipped Baltimore 2-1, New York shaded Cleveland 7-6, Detroit bombed Boston 16-4, California trimmed Minnesota 7-2 and Chicago swept a twinighter from Kansas City 6-4, 5-2 in American League play .

Cloninger's first homer was the big blow in an eight-run explosion in the third inning that wrapped it up for the Braves. His second capped a three-run salvo in the sixth.

Mack Jones also drove in five runs with two singles and his eighth homer while Felipe Alou had a single, double and homer No. 14.

The only run off Cloninger was a pinch hit homer by Billy Murphy in the fifth.

The Cubs beat Drysdale for the third time this season and sent the Dodger right-hander down to his fourth straight defeat, scoring four runs in the second inning and holding on behind relief pitcher Cal Koonce. Koonce blanked the Dodgers from the fourth through the ninth, when he needed last-out help from Billy Hoeft.

Richie Allen hit a three-run homer and Cookie Rojas smacked five straight singles, leading the Phillies' onslaught.

USC Vs. Ohio State In NCAA Semi-Finals

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Stern-faced Chet Bryan, veteran Oklahoma State coach, had just drawn a bye into the NCAA baseball championship finals. He grinned broadly, threw his hands in the air and shouted:

"I just won the daily double!"

Bryan and his lightly regarded Big Eight champions will sit in the stands tonight and watch the nation's two top-rated clubs, Southern California and Ohio State, battle for the third time in four nights.

The winner plays Oklahoma State for the title tomorrow night.

Southern Cal stopped Ohio State's unbeaten march in the college world series 5-1 last night, handing the Buckeyes their first defeat in 21 games since April 2. But both lost in the home plate drawing afterward.

"I'll borrow a line from Coach (Henry) Iba (OSU's 700-game winning basketball coach and athletic director)" said the 50-year old Bryan.

"I'd rather be lucky than smart. But this changes everything."

Ohio State will be favored tonight, with its two-time All-America pitcher, right-hander Steven Arlin, ready to start. If he wins, the Big Ten champions will hope for a top game from right-hander Dick Boggs against Oklahoma State's right-handed line-up.

Rod Dedeaux, veteran coach of USC's four-time NCAA champs, remains confident in his club's ability.

"We're in good shape," he said. Arlin has got to be tired. Yes, John Herbst (11-4 lefty who lost to Ohio State Tuesday) is a good guess to start.

"The finals? I'm not looking that far ahead, but we have good depth. Our kids think they're going all the way—they're sure of it."

USC's Fred Shuey broke a 1-1 tie with a 400-foot triple in the seventh scoring Steve Sogge. The Trojans added three in the ninth.

John Stewart, USC's 16-game winner, got timely relief help from Bill Lee, a big lefty, in the eighth. Stewart hasn't permitted an earned run in two tourney games. Iee is a former Terra Linda High School star from San Rafael.

Oklahoma State ousted St. John's of New York 6-1 as third baseman Fred Toney slammed a three-run triple in the seventh, breaking a 1-1 tie. Frank Warrington, a little lefty, pitched shutout ball in relief.

The 10th-ranked Cowboys have a 1.75 pitching staff earned run mark, best in the tourney, with three straight one-run jobs after an opening 4-2 loss to Ohio State.

Council Proclaims Week For Tennis

The San Rafael City Council has proclaimed next week "Youth in Tennis Week," and particularly thanked the Independent-Journal for its "excellent support."

The council also congratulated the International Professional Tennis Assn. for selecting San Rafael as its World Headquarters. The proclamation precedes the I-J World Pro Stars Tennis Clinics to be held next Tuesday at 12 locations throughout Marin County, and the Peacock Gap Invitational Professional Tennis Tournament which will feature international tennis stars, next week, at the San Rafael beach club.

In a statement directed to Jerry Draper Jr., secretary-treasurer of Peacock's Youth Tennis Foundation, San Rafael City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen extended the city's gratitude for making San Rafael "The Tennis Capital" of the world by bringing the International Tennis Assn. headquarters here. The statement was accompanied with a resolution congratulating the IPTA and proclaiming "Youth in Tennis Week."

Among the 12 stars booked in the Peacock tourney are Rod Laver, rated No. 1 nationally, and Mal Anderson and Lew Hoad, Laver's Australian countryman, Andres Gemino, from Spain, and Earl Buchholz, a U.S. product.

Laver, along with the 11 other pro stars now in the county, will also participate in the one-day I-J clinic which is aimed at helping develop proficiency of youngsters and teen-agers. It is being co-ordinated by Paul Wilkins, manager of Youth Tennis Clinics and pro at Belvedere Tennis Club.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Black Bass Spot Found East Of Stockton; An Item For The Rich

STEVENS

Joe Navarro, former owner of Sports Center in Hayward, who has become a black bass fishing buff, called last night to do some raving over the fine trip he and his son had while fishing the New Hogan Reservoir. "It was just fantastic, Ralph," he said, "almost every cast hooked a fish!" Apparently the lure that was irresistible to the blackies was a bomber.

Knowing that a black bass addict will go anywhere at any time to a spot for such action as Joe Navarro described, and knowing, also that such a Shangri La of a black bass spot must be pin-pointed as to directions, I called the very efficient public relations officer of the Department of Fish and Game for the specifics.

AS JOE NAVARRO told me, the New Hogan Reservoir is 34 miles east of Stockton — 31 miles east to Spring Valley then 3 miles on Highway 26 to the 4,400 acre flood control reservoir. Usually the spring months are the best, but other times are good. Not only is the reservoir well populated with black bass (running to 4 pounds and over), there is also a good supply of green sunfish, crappies, bluegills and an occasional rainbow trout.

CRAPPIES, sunfish and bluegills are active all year round. There are facilities, particularly at the north end of the lake such as camp grounds and launching ramp. There is a moderate charge. If you have one of the federal $7 stickers, there will be no charge; if no sticker, the fee is $3 per month or $1 per day per car. If you like walking you may park your car and hike to the lake and pay only 50 cents.

While there must be hundreds of outdoor lovers and fishing addicts who never heard of the new Hogan Lake, it is not unknown to all. Last year it was visited by 250,000 people and it is expected that the number will be nearly doubled this year.

AN INTERESTING letter in my mail today (with a request the writer's name be held confidential). The writer referred to a statement I made in a recent column — "Everybody is always doing something for the poor, how's about something for the rich?" I then mentioned the rather steep charges for a short fishing vacation at the Club De Pesca De Panama in Pinas Bay, Panama. The short letter ends with the following underlined two words: "How Much?"

THE LATEST PRICE list is before me as I write. Not enough space to set all down, but one special should suffice as an example. "El Palacio (house on the hill per day, party of six or less, includes meals) 7 days minimum—per day: $250. For the minimum stay of 7 days, $1,750. Let the writer figure it out and decide if it is for a rich man or not. Any other rates and details, contact the Club de Pesca de Panama, Republic National Bank Building, Dallas, Tex.

Swimming Record

PARIS (AP)—French swimming star Christine Caron broke her own European record for the 200-meter backstroke last night with a clocking of 2:27.9.

Laver Wins Match In Net Tourney

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rod Laver of Australia, the No. 1 seed, defeated Pierre Barthes of France 7-9, 6-4, 6-4 last night in the $17,000 U.S. Professional Hardcourt Tennis Championships.

Pancho Segura of Ecuador defeated Mal Anderson of Australia 6-3, 6-1. Anderson earlier had whipped the No. 2 seeded player, Australian Ken Rosewall.

Rosewall and Lew Hoad of Australia downed Barthes and Andres Gimeno of Spain 6-4, 6-2 in a doubles match.

Burches Quite A Pitching Act

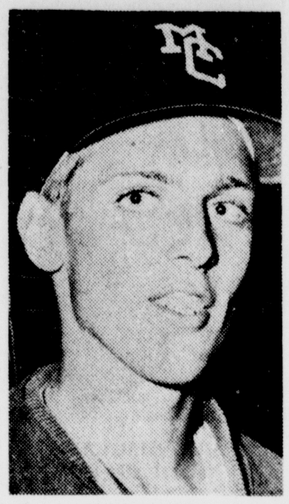
By GARY TISCHLER

They may be the best brother pitching act since Lindy and Von McDaniel.

Marin Catholic High School never had the services of the McDaniel boys, but it would probably settle for a couple of dozen Frank and Ben Burches any old day.

Marin Catholic has won two Marin Athletic League Varsity titles, both in baseball, and if the Burch boys hadn't been around, the cupboard might still be bare.

Frank Burch, who signed with the Huston Astros this week, led the Wildcats to their first title in 1962 and this year, kid brother Ben did a man-size job in helping the Wildcats to another title.



BEN BURCH
Look alike . . .

LIKE TWINS

The two brothers are so much alike they ought to be twins.

They look alike. They both collect stamps. They both compiled outstanding pitching records as preps. They both have the same pitching motion.

"Three-quarter speed overhand," they chimed in.

Add that to the fact that both boys' schoolwork is a lot more than just respectable, and you have something like a set of mirrors.

"We're pretty close," Ben explained.

"You could say we have a harmonious relationship," Frank added.

There is a small difference.

BEST PITCHES

"I'd say Frank has a better fast ball," their father, Francis X. Burch, a retired Air Force master sergeant said, "But Ben already has a fine curve ball for a high school player."

"We have little rivalries," Ben said. "But as long as we're winning we don't worry about anybody else."

The duo won plenty for Marin Catholic.

Frank had a 5-2 record in 1962 and set an MAL strikeout record when he whiffed 17 Terra Linda batters in one game. Ben's top strikeout performance is 13.

Ben compiled an impressive 10-3 record this year, which included two two-hitters in the Redwood Tournament of Champions.

VALUABLE

"I'm sure we couldn't have won the title without him," Marin Catholic baseball coach Gary Hughes said. "He (Ben) is easily the best high school pitcher I've seen around here."

These are not the usual athletes with big strong arms whose thinking abilities are a lot slower than their curve ball.

Ben had a 3.75 grade average at Marin Catholic and received a full state scholarship to Stanford.

Frank had a 3.2 grade average in high school, studied premed at the University of San Francisco and received the Charles L. Harney Award presented to USF's finest senior student - athlete.

Probably their biggest fan is Mr. Burch himself. He's proud.

FRANK BURCH
. . . brothers

"We're all proud of them," he said. "And not just because of baseball but because they're good students, too."

Mr. Burch tries to make every game but sometimes he can't.

"I've missed a few," he said. "But I don't feel too good about it."

There have been occasions when both boys have pitched in different games at the same time.

"I usually go to one game and my wife goes to the other," Mr. Burch said.

Marin Catholic baseball fans may have felt more the usual twinge of graduation night melancholy when Ben received his diploma this month. There will be no mor Burches on the mound for Marin Catholic.

Softball Meeting Set Monday For Managers

The San Rafael Recreation Department will hold an Adult Softball Managers Meeting next Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Recreation Center, Second and Brooks streets, San Rafael.

Information concerning the summer A, B, C and 16 in Slow Pitch leagues will be discussed. Any team wishing to enter should have a manager or representative present.

Amazing Prep Field Entered In Track Meet

SACRAMENTO Calif., (AP)—An amazing field of high school track and field athletes from all over the nation compete tomorrow night at Hughes Stadium in the Sixth Annual Golden West Invitational Meet.

Included among the 100 entries is Rick Riley of Spokane, Wash., fastest high school two-miler in history with an 8:48.4.

Riley also might run in the mile against Tim Danielson of Chula Vista, Calif., who ran a 3:59.4 mile recently.

The other was run by Jim Ryun, who won two events including the mile last year at this meet. That field of youngsters would have beaten any college track team in the nation and would have finished near or on top of the NCAA Championships, if entered as a group.

Other stars are Merlin Eck, a 9.4 century dash man from Greenville, Tex., Julio Meade of New York, who's turned 20.4 in the 220; Jeff Howser of Charlotte, N.C., co-high school record holder in the 120-yard hurdles and high jumpers Don Pierce of Pittsburg, Calif., and Clarence Johnson of San Antonio, Tex., each of whom has cleared seven feet.

Peruvian Native Won Wimbledon Title In 1959

When Alex Olmedo, then a student at the University of Southern California, was named to the 1958 U.S. Davis Cup Team, experts ridiculed the choice of an unknown.

After Olmedo got through, the critics were pretty quiet. The slender Peruvian native knocked off Mal Anderson and Ashley Cooper in the challenge round against Australia and became an overnight sensation.

His play thereafter was uneven, sometimes brilliant, sometimes fair. But he rose to the top of the amateur world in 1959 when he won the Wimbledon singles crown by beating Rod Laver in the finals.

He turned professional in 1959 and defeated Frank Sedgman and Anderson in the Melbourne tournament.

Olmedo has all the equipment to be a great one. Bothered by inconsistancy, he has yet to hit his peak. But Olmedo, still a young 28, may live up to his nickname of "The Chief."

14 Bases Empty Homers By Alou

4 Games Slated For Softballers

Sohner Tree Service softballers will attempt to duplicate last weekend's four-game sweep when they journey to Santa Rosa tonight to play the first of two doubleheaders.

The Treemen then host the second-place Concord Merchants in a 7:30 p.m. North Coast Traveling League twinbill tomorrow at San Rafael's Albert Park.

In tonight's action, Sohner meets Good Spot in the opener and then tangles with undefeated Stevenson's Equipment in the nightcap. Both opponents are Santa Rosa teams.

Morey Swarm and Chuck Tyson are expected tto hurl for Sohner tonight while Gary Swarm and brother Morey will get the starting calls tomorrow.

The Treemen swept a pair of twin bills last weekend, defeating the San Quentin inmates and the San Mateo Merchants.

Barry's Hard Serves Wow The Galleries

Barry MacKay may not be the best tennis player in the world but he has yet to bore a net gallery.

MacKay is a fan's tennis player. He is strong and he plays like it. A nice guy, he loses hard. He braves match points with thunderous second serves. His serve has been timed at 110 miles an hour. Try looking that in the teeth some time. He and Lew Hoad are said to be the strongest players on the circuit.

A natural athlete, MacKay started playing tennis because he wanted to try another sport after already being proficient in basketball, baseball and football.

He won the Ohio High School Championship in 1952 and steamed into the amateur ranks. He was a member of U.S. Davis Cup teams from 1956-60, including the team that won the cup in 1958.

MacKay has had the usual rough transition period from amateur to professional. He became a pro in 1960, after the U.S. lost to Italy in the Davis Cup. He has suffered in what the pros call the knockdown period but he has passed the acid test.

Faster Play In National Open

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The speed-up of play in the National Open Golf Championships yesterday cut more than an hour off the average time for the 18-hole first round.

The last threesome toured the Olympic Course in four hours, 15 minutes compared with five hours, 27 minutes last year at Bellerive in St. Louis. Under the speed-up players must putt out continuously and can clean the ball only once on a green, that before the first putt.

M.V. Manager Lashes Out At Little League

The Mill Valley Raccoons have agreed to henceforth play ball not to please the American foot diameter ballon to map the Little League board members but "For the fun of it."

The action, according to Tony Astengo, manager, followed a board order that one Raccoon could not play because he signed up too late. The board voted 6 to 5 to disallow him from playing.

The Raccoons agreed to forfeit last night's game with the huskies but to continue to play in the minor league for fun.

"It's supposed to be for the kids," said Astengo, a Mill Valley science teacher. "But it's often for the adults who want ego gratification. Maybe one time they were for fun but now they are hung up on paper work, charters and the kids having insurance."

Astengo said the Raccoons are the last team in the league, having lost nine games and won one. "But we can still play ball," he said.

Hardtop Racing Slated For Tomorrow Night

Racing, racing, racing. There's lots of it on tap in the area for Marin County fans.

Concord's Dave Logan, who has already won two main events this year, will be the man to watch at the Bay Cities Racing Assn. races at Vallejo Speedway tomorrow night.

More than 60 drivers will be competing at the races which have time trials starting at 7:30 and heat racing at 8:30.

San Rafael's Chuck Louwaert has moved up to the eighth spot in the point standings at the Petaluma hardtop track, followed closely by Jim Giubbini of Novato with 214 points. Lyle Lister of San Jose leads with 341 points.

Qualifying trials at Petaluma will be at 7 tomorrow night.

At the Fremont Dragstrip, they have something they call a "stocker shocker" coming up June 25, when the fast stock cars will be featured. Also featured will be the "Ozark Mule," an engine the size of a watermelon strapped into a 1965 Mustang which has clocked in at 155 miles per hour.

Military Spending Offsets Fears That U.S. Economic Boom Slowing

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The economic boom is rounding out its 64th month with little visible toll from either old age or stock market palsy.

Each time the unprecedented peacetime upswing shows signs of faltering, something comes along to feed it pep pills. A couple of years ago it was a federal income tax cut that did the trick when a slowdown had seemed likely. This time it is the infusion of stepped-up military spending that is beginning to circulate through the business stream.

Above all, it has been the inherent strength of the economy itself that has kept business expanding and consumers earning more and spending more.

Increased Defense Department spending is just beginning to take effect. There is often a long time lag between the congressional voting of extra funds and the payment for delivered goods.

But in between, the recipients of defense orders — whether it be for costly aircraft or lowly uniforms — begin stepping up orders for raw materials. Or they pass out subcontracts to other firms to help them fill the defense orders.

This defense spending in the months ahead is a main reason that most economists think the general business boom will survive the current perplexities, such as the drop in consumer buying of autos. They expect the economy to climb still higher in the fall.

All this also is why so many financial and business observers are taking calmly all the goings-on in the stock markets in recent weeks. They feel the market is acting less like a barometer of stormy weather ahead, and more like a correction of speculative fever that was getting out of hand early in the year.

That there will be a slowing down in the pace of a number of industries this summer is taken for granted. The auto industry has its problems just now and the plants may close down earlier than usual for model changeovers. But always ebullient Detroit thinks the new models will give the final weeks of the year a big shove upward.

Steel mills are feeling the drop in orders from their prize customer, the car maker. But defense spending, and the still healthy consumer demand for most appliances, now seem likely to give the mills more orders during the hot weather than they had thought possible a while back.

Factory payrolls rose again in May. Largest increases were in machinery, electrical equipment, apparel, furniture, primary metals and printing industries.

Federal Statistics Show Inflation Finally Abating

By PETER S. NAGAN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—A new set of government statistics challenges the growing belief that the U.S. business expansion is finally slowing down and that inflation is finally abating.

The statistics result from a survey of industry's plans to invest in new plant and equipment this year. It was conducted jointly by the Department of Commerce and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The survey shows that businessmen are not cutting down their outlays for new productive facilities. It indicates such spending in 1966 will be 1 per cent higher than was projects three months ago—putting expected expenditures 17 per cent above last year, instead of 16 per cent.

To be sure, that 1 per cent increase is centering in the first half of the year, now largely behind us. The second half will continue on the track forecast earlier. And a 1 per cent change isn't very large. But significantly, spending did not dip, as was widely expected in the face of President Lyndon B. Johnson's appeals to business to cut back, and in line with the softening that is showing up in some other areas of the economy.

These soft spots are too numerous to ignore. The decline in auto sales has now lasted for two months. The stock market, after feeble attempts to rally, continues its downward slide. Housing starts keep slipping. Ne orders for durable goods fell 3 per cent in April. And prices of some basic commodities have been moving down since March.

Economists are more impressed by these signs of hesitation than by any in more than a year. But they have been slow to draw firm conclusions about a basic weakening in the busi-

So analysts have been waiting for more decisive evidence, one way or the other. The new figures on spending for new plant and equipment are one major piece of this evidence. Business investment is a powerfully stimulated force. It is a volatile area of the economy and when it is in the upward phase of its cycle—as it is today—it places huge new demands on productive capacity.

The builders who put up the new factories must themselves hire more men. The machinery makers must find new, highly skilled mechanists, tool makers and such. Demands rise for scarce materials.

Indeed, the fact that the machinery industries cannot find extra workers is forcing manufacturers to pay above-scale wages in the hope of increasing their work forces and their output. The result has been higher wages, higher costs, and delivery delays.

In short, spending for plant and equipment is an important inflationary factor. The fact that such spending is continuing strongly suggests that inflationary forces in the economy are not about to die.

Market Closes Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed generally lower today in moderately active trading.

The market was down after a mixed opening. Preweekend caution combined with Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler's statement that a tax increase is still an open question were factors which damped the market.

Aerospace issues were higher most of the day, but these began to weaken in late dealings. Boeing held a gain of about 2 but others showed minus signs.

Strength in aerospace issues spread to some of the airlines, office equipments, drugs and a variety of other issues.

Sperry Rand was pacing the list on volume, making a minor fractional gain.

Boeing also was heavily traded, up near 2.

Douglas Aircraft leaped about 3 points. IBM climbed more than 7 points.

Gains of about a point were made by Control Data, U.S. Smelting, Liggett & Myers, Merck, Admiral, Fairchild Camera, Chicago Pneumatic Tube, McKesson & Robbins, and Texas Gulf Sulphur.

Teledyne leaped more than 5 points, Texas Instruments almost 3, Vasco Metals 2.
